Romulus creates police force Veteran state trooper Don Flood named chief

By JIM BRADLEY
ANP Staff Writer

Last week marked an historic moment in Romulus.

City Council voted unanimously to establish the city's own police force and send communication to the county that Romulus can wait no longer to see if the county will continue to provide police protection.

About the city's new police chief

A veteran state police officer has been named to head Romulus' newly-created police department.
Donald R. Flood, 51, who has distinguished himself in 25 years service with the Michigan State Police, was named to the post by Mayor William M. Oakley.

"It's going to be a challenge of the highest magnitude," the new police chief explained. "It's not everyday that someone is given the responsibility of starting a brand new police department."

"However, we're looking forward to it with great anticipation and confidence," said Flood, who was approved by City Council April 14 and started work this week.

It was an historic moment last week when City Council approved the creation of a new police department and Flood will receive $28,500 as police chief.

"I believe Romulus is extremely fortunate to have a police officer with Mr. Flood's qualifications to lead our new police department," Oakley said.

"I am personally gratified we were able to get such an outstanding law enforcement officer with his distinguished record in state police work."

Flood, who resides in Livonia, has more than 25 years police work as a member of the Michigan State Police and is experienced in all phases of law enforcement from uniform patrol to major conspiratorial investigations.

During the last seven years he has worked in a supervisory capacity, overseeing various police units with from 10 to 30 persons in the investigative field. He is familiar with office procedures, personnel matters, budgets and operational management.

Romulus' new police chief joined the Councilman Fred Junior Block made the motion, supported by Edward Rush, and it passed on a 5-0 vote, with Jimmie Raspberry and Richard Yeramian absent. Subsequent motions were unanimously approved to lease Romulus Elementary School for a police headquarters and to make emergency purchases of police uniforms.

Mayor William M. Oakley told Council that it was his intention to hire a Lieutenant and 10-to-12 patrolmen, beginning Monday of this week. Oakley added that he hoped to hire an additional 10-12 patrolmen in the next two weeks in Phase II of creating the city's own police force.

Council had all ready approved the hiring of Lt. Donald Flood, a 25-year veteran of the Michigan State Police, as the new Romulus Police Chief at a salary of $28,500. Flood was expected to officially begin in his new post this week although he has done much preliminary work in the past three weeks.

Oakley requested Council's concurrence with his request to lease Romulus Elementary School for $1 per year to be used as police headquarters. The school, located at 11165 Olive Street in downtown Romulus, is presently vacant and not being used by the school system.

Councilman Rush asked the mayor if that included the entire school. "That hasn't been finalized," Oakley responded. "We wouldn't need the entire building right now."

Councilman Ray Cantrell inquired, "How long is the lease? Is there any time limit?"

Oakley replied, "No. This is a new area. We hope to have a police station out here one day," referring to the Civic Center, which holds the City Hall, library and 34th District Court.

Oakley said it would be an open-end lease. "It may be two years or five years," he explained, depending on how things develop. The mayor explained to council that he would interpret their "yes" vote as a clear indication that Romulus would be committing itself to a police department "and that there's no turning back."

Oakley said he wanted to send out notices to hire 10-12 patrolmen last Friday and in two more weeks hire that many more, for a total of about 15 police officers. Oakley said that 100 percent of the applicants on the hiring list are certified police officers. "Some are jailers only, with no street experience," he added.

Councilman Cantrell asked Oakley if police applicants would be given a polygraph test before being hired.

"Yes," Oakley replied. "There's a place in Dearborn that administers the test for a $75 fee for each applicant. There is a question whether its legal to give it to applicants. I'd like Council to approve giving the polygraph test, if its ruled legal to do so, it's part of our procedure in hiring and I believe it should be permitted," Oakley said.

Councilman Gerry Canejo asked, "What are we going to put in for a communication system?"

Oakley said he had a man who worked with Wayne County and for the Motorola Corporation. "He's looked over our equipment. Admittedly, we'd have a mediocre system at first but we would improve it as soon as possible. We'll be using our dispatcher for fire and police calls," Oakley explained.

Just prior to Council voting to create the city's own police department, Oakley said there was one question uppermost in most applicant's minds. "Every applicant asked if we are really going to have a police department in Romulus."

Oakley said Romulus had reached the "point of no return" and said it was time council "went on record" to create its own police department.

Mary Ann Banks, Mayor pro-tem, praised the members of the police committee who she said "did a fine job and worked so hard in bringing this about."

Beverly McAnally, present city treasurer and longtime council member of Romulus had a fitting comment describing the momentous occasion.

"They should sound the trumpets. This deserves a fanfare. It is truly an historic moment when Romulus establishes its own police department," she said.

Murder suspect arrested

A 28-year-old Detroit man, stopped for a traffic violation, was arrested and charged with the murder of the Wayne County General Hospital paymaster.

The accused, Dwight Harrison, was arraigned on May 3 before visiting out-county Judge John Dillon on a charge of first degree murder.

Harrison stood mute at his arraignment and remanded to Wayne County Jail to await a pretrial examination in 22nd District Court. The defendant was ordered held without bond.

Harrison is accused of slaying Albert Mason who served as the hospital's paymaster until his death. Mason's 1973 Cadillac was also missing and the vehicle apparently led to Harrison's arrest.

According to Lt. James Buckley of the Inkster Detective Bureau, Harrison was stopped for a minor traffic violation in Detroit. When arresting officers questioned the defendant about the vehicle, a Cadillac, he was not able to produce the car title or registration.

Officers then ran a check on the vehicle and it turned out to belong to the murdered victim.

She wears crown beautifully

Breaking into tears after the announcement was made, New Boston's Rebecca Minges managed, like a queen, to shift her mood into a pleasant smile after learning that she was the winner of the Michigan National Teen-Age Pageant crown. Also pictured with the newly-crowned queen are (from left) Dr. Richard Pretzlaff

Rebecca Minges captures Michigan Teen-age crown

By DAN BODENE

Two days of rehearsal, speeches, marching, standing, smiling, smiling, and more smiling. But when the final moment arrived, Rebecca Minges of New Boston cried as she became the new Miss Michigan National Teenager.

She was selected by judges from among tough competition — also vying for the title were Susan Knight and Kim Massey, both of Plymouth. Although neither girl was among the final 22 contestants (scores were too close for only the usual 15), the Plymouth-Canton Community had a lot to be proud of Saturday night.

The event was the culmination of months of work, not only for contestants but for pageant directors and management of the Plymouth Hilton, which hosted the event. The Hilton, in fact, has been selected as the state pageant site for the next four years.

Sign-in began at noon on Friday for 120 girls coming from all areas of Michigan. Each had their picture taken with the reigning Miss National Teenager 1981, Danielle Black of Nebraska, and were assigned a room ("No boys or men are allowed in contestants rooms at any time...not even fathers!").

Rehearsals were next, all under the direction of state pageant directors George and Mary Jo Scarborough of Pensacola, Fla. Speaking with a gentle southern accent (belying years of hard-won experience), Mrs. Scarborough explained the finer points of pageantry to contest hopefuls divided into "red" and "blue" groups.

Knight was assigned to the red group, and practiced her introduction to the runway ("Turn slowly and look at each judge — smile!) while Massey, in the blue group, learned microphone etiquette for the speech competition ("Don't start talking until you stop walking and don't start walking until you stop talking").

Speeches were one of the central points of the pageant, which had a patriotic theme throughout. Both the Scarboroughs stressed the pageant was not a beauty contest, but an organization designed to recognize high standards of citizenship in teenagers. Pageant photographer Bob Morris, a five-year veteran of the event, added, "This is really a pageant for small-town girls, who can

Banks fail to bid on local school bonds

More evidence of the hard times local school districts are facing surfaced at the latest Romulus Board of Education meeting. The district had scheduled to routinely open bids on $2 Million note to borrow against next summer's tax collection.

The Borrowing had been approved by the State's Municipal Finance Commission and the Department of Education and forms and information had been sent to eight banks.

The surprise came when the 7:00 p.m. deadline for sealed, written bids came and went without a single banking institution submitting a bid.

Superintendent William Bedell stated, "I've never seen anything like this in twenty-three years of school business. I vaguely recall a similar situation in Pontiac two or three years ago, but for a school district of our status and tax base to not be able to receive bids on a $2 Million note is ludicrous."

School staff people began scrambling immediately to find solutions to the cash flow problem. It was explained to the Board of Education that final tax collections will get the district through the next payroll, but if a loan is not secured, there will undoubtedly be payless paydays sometime within the next month for the schools. Board members were visibly upset by the prospect.

Trustee Evelyn Hopewell said, "Our financial problems seem to be never ending. We just heard an excellent report by a citizen's group on a program for gifted and talented children. I wish some of the state officials contributing to our dilemmas could have heard it."

Bedell indicated that the school district will re-bid the note on May 11th. If there are no bidders the second time, the school district by law is free to negotiate with lenders.

Bedell said that he hoped that private investment houses would tender the $2 Million under those conditions. "I think the banking establishment is playing a little bit of a game with the school district and our children in this matter," said Bedell.

"Next week the State Legislature is considering taking the lid off the artificial interest rate limit placed on this kind of borrowing.

It strikes me as a little bit odd that seven banks refuse to bid on relatively routine tax anticipation borrowing just one week before the legislature considers taking the interest lid off.

Absentee ballots are available

Romulus and Huron municipal clerks announced today that absentee voter's ballots are now available and may be obtained from the clerk's offices.

Voters who are physically unable to attend the polls, who are 60-years of age or more or will be out of town for the special statewide elections scheduled for May 19 may be eligible for the ballots.

The deadline to obtain and make applications for the ballots is Saturday, May 16.

S.O.S. benefit for sheriffs

More Romulus business people are getting involved in helping Wayne County Sheriff's Patrol stay in the city. The unit, which is contracted to protect Romulus, is scheduled to be discontinued May 19 because of a lack of money on the county's part.

As a result, some local business people have started benefits to raise money to help the Deputies' legal fund in their effort to remain as the law enforcement agency.

Latest to host a S.O.S. (Save Our Sheriffs) benefit a group of businesses on Goddard Road across from Kennedy Park near Five Points at Huron River Drive.

They will hold a Chicken Bar-be-que dinner from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. at Kennedy Park on Saturday, May 16. Cost of the dinner is $4 per person and there will be many other attractions, including a dunk tank and moon walk, clowns, balloons and T-shirts. The balloons and T-shirts will be inscribed with the words: "S.O.S. - Save Our Sheriffs."

Huron township clerk answers her critics

To the Editor: For the past few weeks I have chosen to remain silent and not answer any of the innuendoes and unproven statements which have been printed about me in another newspaper in our area but his past week I told the reporter that the things that she was questioning me about were lies and she printed them anyway. I now feel that I must answer this handful of newcomers to Huron Township.

In answer to one of their statements, I have been re-elected to my position as Township Clerk because the majority of the people in Huron Township know me, trust me and vote for me because I give them an honest representative in the Clerk's Office. Perhaps if any one of you had taken the time to come to the office and meet me we could have discussed whatever problem you thought you had! Not one of you ladies has ever called me nor been in to the Township office to talk to me about any of your "charges against me!" Had you taken the time and interest in your community to do something constructive the embarrassment to our township could have been avoided.

As for Diane Clark's statement about elections, and not being called to work again; our records indicate that she worked in four elections beginning in August, 1978 — not every election for the past eight years! We try to rotate and add some new people to each election, some are asked to work again, some are not, but the decision is not mine alone!

Your ridiculous remark about your name being written in against mine for clerk in August, 1980 is absolutely false! I have reviewed the election "Statement of Returns" from each voting precinct and there was ONE write-in vote recorded (on an AV ballot) for Trustee, for someone other than you. In questioning other election workers, I was told that in the precinct where you worked, your name appeared on the write-in paper roll 2 or 3 times for the office of TREASURER, not Clerk. I do not know why those write-ins were not recorded by you and the others in that precinct. Your signature appears on the "Affidavit on the Statement of Returns" as being the true and correct report of all votes cast in Precinct #7.

As for "my office staff" being too large. I will say this — there is always enough work, phone calls, etc. to keep us all busy and many days, I don't even eat lunch! The Township Board designated me as the personnel director for the women in the Township Office, BUT only two of those people are directly chargeable to the Clerk's functions! The Deputy Clerk and the Bookkeeper. The other people on the Township Office Staff consist of:

1. Water & Sewer Department Clerk, whose duties include, but are not limited to, the billing and posting of all water receipts. This position was created over 18 years ago and the duties have been expanded as the department grew. She also acts as the Recording Secretary for the Recreation Commission. She also answers phone calls, helps customers at the counter. No two days are ever the same in this office, so it is impossible to explain just exactly what each and every one of us does from one day to the next.

2. Building Department Clerk — whose duties include but are not limited to, accepting applications for building, plumbing, heating and electrical permits; Zoning applications, etc. She also acts as recording secretary for the Planning Commission and the ZBA. In addition to answering telephones and helping people at the counter. Assists the Supervisor with preparations for Board of Review, Property Splits, typing, etc.

3. Treasurer's Assistant or Deputy, whose duties include assisting in General Office and Supervisor's office when needed.

4. Rehab Director: A.C.E.T.A. funded position created in 1977 by the Board to assist Huron Township residents and senior citizens who qualify for the program to fix up their homes with grant funds. When she is caught up in her work, she also may assist customers at the counter with their water bills, dog license or questions on other matters. She also does typing for the Grant Coordinator (a position created by the people at the annual meeting in 1976, as an assistant to the Supervisor). She may also help to type envelopes for AV ballots, etc.

5. There is also one other C.E.T.A. person in the Bookkeeping Dept. at the present time. This person assists with the Bookkeeping and insurance work, and has been with the township about 9 months. This is an on the job training experience and includes many hours of classroom work in addition to the hours spent in the Township office. The Federal Government is paying for the entire program. The Accounting for Governmental Units in Michigan has become very complex within the past few years and I will proudly defend this particular phase of my duties. This office also handles all insurance and fringe benefit work, including the fire and rescue reports.

For those of you involved in the "Recall Effort" who are so new to our township that you don't know what it was like prior to the current board, there are some real skeletons in Huron Township Government's closet. I would suggest that perhaps you should come in to the office and listen to what it was like prior to June of 1971 when I was appointed Clerk. You may not believe this but it certainly is a much more efficient and honest operation now than prior to my appointment.

About the water and sewer rates — I am not happy about paying increased utility bills either! The Township Board reduced the minimum bill effective with the May billing. The charge for water is 81c per 1,000 gallons of water, not $2.28 as you stated.

The Township received a notice from the Detroit Water Board last week which stated that "we did not use enough water in 1980" according to a contract signed 20 years ago by a previous administration and so must pay a penalty of $4,557.81 by May 15th. We are protesting this of course, but without an operational charge on the minimum bills, we would not have funds to pay for repairs to broken lines or the salaries of the men who do the work. These men also read the water meters, a cost cutting suggestion of mine. We no pay three part-time meter readers $250.00 each per month.

I could go on and on about the improved services in the past 10 years — but those of us who have lived here for many years already know about them and those of you who have just moved in and are so very unhappy should make the rounds of some of the neighboring townships and compare staff size and wages with ours. It could be a real eye opener if you would open your minds to reality.

We, the Township Board, are responsible for the operation of an $80 million + business — governed by the laws of the State of Michigan.

It is impossible for me to be everyone's best friend — no matter how hard I try, there will always be a few people who disagree with what I do, but I believe that I honestly represent the majority of Huron Township's residents and I work very hard at it. I enjoy my job but I don't believe that it gives me any great power of any kind. I do not know why anyone would say that they are "afraid" of me or my "power" but I have an open mind and an open door to my office if someone would care to explain these remarks to me.

I've never said that I was perfect. I am just a dedi-

Local engineering students honored

Lynn Cannon and Nanetta Roberson, Michigan State University students from Belleville, have each been awarded a scholarship for academic excellence.

Cannon and Roberson received their scholarship at the fifth annual Minority Students in Engineering Awards and Recognition Banquet held in MSU's Kellogg Center.

Hundred dollar scholarships were awarded to the junior and senior with the highest grade point averages in their major fields.

The two freshmen and two sophomores with the highest grade point averages also won scholarships.

Cannon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Cannon, 49130 Arkona, is a senior majoring in civil engineering.

Roberson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Larkin, 44111 Harmony Lane, is a junior majoring in systems science.

Both are graduates of Belleville High School.

The event was sponsored by the MSU Engineering Equal Opportunity Program and the Minority Students in Engineering.

Mayor makes muscular dystrophy appeal

Mayor Justin Emerson proclaimed Muscular Dystrophy Month throughout Belleville calling upon the people of Belleville to support the 1981 March Appeal by Muscular Dystrophy Association.

The annual drive, which begins May 15 and extends through June 15, seeks funds to support an all-out research attack against the crippling, muscle-wasting disease and to provide clinic and patient services.

Some 250,000 Americans are victims of muscular dystrophy, most of them children, in whom it is nearly always fatal.

Neither the cause of the disease nor an effective treatment for it has yet been found. The annual House-to-house "March Against Time" will be conducted Tuesday, June 2, 1981 from 5:00 P.M. to 9:00 P.M.

The 1981 volunteer Chairman for Belleville is: Mrs. Kathleen McDaniel, 17760 Sumpter Road, Belleville, Mich. 48111.

Those wishing to help in this worthwhile cause may volunteer by calling "March Against Time" headquarters at 937-9123.

Berg wants cut in county Commissioners

New charter should reduce to 15

BART BERG

It took more than three hours of debate last week but the Charter Commission voted to recommend reducing the number of County Commissioners from 27 to 15 in the new charter to be presented to the voters.

Charter Commissioner Bart Berg of Canton, who represents the 27th district, reported it took four roll call votes to muster the necessary 14 votes to pass the measure.

"I started the ball rolling by recommending that the number be cut from 27 County Commissioners to nine," said Berg, who believes 27 commissioners is far too many. That amendment failed by one vote, 13-12.

The next move was a resolution to base the number on a population basis of approximately 105,000 in each district which would have meant a total of 21 commissioners. That measure passed 14-11, but before the vote was tabulated, Charter Commissioner William Brainard, Mayor of Southgate, asked to change his vote.

His changed vote made it 13-12 and again it failed to reach the needed majority of 14 votes.

Brainard then proposed a 15-member

Commission Board and that passed 14-11. However, Charter Commissioner Roman Tafalski of Inkster asked for reconsideration of that motion and it failed on the same 14-11 tally.

Cyclist dies in crash

Wayne Police are continuing their investigation into an April 18 accident, which claimed the life of 27-year-old Earl Leslie Fearing Jr. of Westland.

The accident occurred at 1:14 a.m. that day on the Annapolis-Venoy Road intersection.

According to police reports, a 1970 Chevrolet, driven by Joanne Vaught, 18, of Wayne traveling east on Annapolis, had stopped for the flashing red light at the intersection.

Ms. Vaught told police she saw no traffic on Venoy and began to cross the intersection, when her car collided with a 450cc Honda motorcycle, driven by Fearing.

Fearing sustained fatal injuries in the crash and was declared dead on arrival at Annapolis Hospital shortly after the accident.

The accident is still under investigation, and officers are awaiting the results of laboratory tests to see if the motorcycle's head lamp was burning at the time of the crash, before approaching the Prosecutor for a determination on possible charges.

Special program is created for gifted, talented students

Romulus Board of Education unanimously approved a recommendation to create a program for gifted and talented students in grades K-6 for the 1981-82 school year.

This move followed seven months of intensive study by a twenty (20) member citizen and staff committee which developed the program.

Beginning next September, between 100-140 eligible elementary students will be offered an opportunity to attend this program, one day a week, during each of two 6 week sessions. Parents of participating students will be required to provide transportation to the classes.

Classes will emphasize more intense use of fundamental skills in the basic subject areas while encouraging the development of self initiative, group cooperation, problem solving and critical thinking.

Marvin Fischer, Assistant Superintendent for Curriculum and Instruction chaired the committee. Other school representatives were Board of Education member Theresa Kraft, principals Richard Goode and Daniel Murray, teachers Marcia MacMahan, Shirley Germaine, Sharon Popek and Jean Weiler.

Parent representatives were Dorothy Nesler, Jean Voight, Carlene and Don Stark, Sally Michalski, Joan Martin, Sandy Langley, Annette and Gus Frech, Sue Campbell, Theresa Schlotter and Patricia Rhodes.

The committee studied and/or visited programs in eight other Michigan school districts before writing the program for Romulus students. They carefully analyzed test data and other materials to be used in identifying gifted and/or talented students. Romulus administrators and teachers participated in a survey related to program development.

In addition, the committee met with several leaders in the Gifted and Talented Education field. A teacher for the program will come from existing staff. Funding for materials and equipment will be supplied through an approved federal grant. Nothing will be purchased from the General Fund.

Staff members will finalize procedures for identifying students and organize final details to insure a smooth beginning for the program next September. They will determine in which existing building the program will be located.

Citizens who have further questions should contact Mr. Fischer at 941-1600.

These four ladies have been instrumental in drafting a program for gifted and talented students which was approved last week by the Romulus School Board for implementation next school year. Shown here are Jean Voight, a parent, (from left), educators Marey Mac-vocal in Lansing in the past year and the bankers would know that we would be very upset at not receiving this note."

Bedell went on to indicate that the school district did just what he felt the banks anticipated, and everyone who has any connection with the borrowing has been notified of the problem. It appears that local banking officials appear to be as caught in the middle as much as anyone. Board President, Wayne Avery indicated, "Our local banking officials at Manufacturers and Security have always been helpful," he said. "It appears banking people from "downtown" made this decision without school official or local bank knowledge or forewarning."

The Board will re-bid the note at its meeting of May 11, Bedell said.

Romulus Rotary to offer $1,000 scholarship to student

Romulus Rotary Club has announced it will offer the first annual $1,000 Romulus Rotary Foundation Scholarship to a high school senior living in Romulus.

Deadline to apply for this year's initial scholarship is Monday, May 11.

The new scholarship winner — which will receive $500 per semester — will be chosen by the Romulus Rotary Scholarship Selection Committee.

To be eligible, a graduating senior must live in Romulus, have recommendations from six of his or her teachers in high school, provide a confidential statement of need signed by their parent or parents and have at least a 3.0 grade point average.

The candidates may be seniors of a parochial or public school outside of Romulus, but they must reside in the city of Romulus. Sons and daughters of Rotarians are not eligible to win. Also, the scholarship is non-renewable — there will be a new winner each year.

Because time is of the essence, seniors are urged to apply on required application forms that are available from their high school counselor's office. The deadline is Monday, May 11.

More information may be obtained by calling John Domas at 941-2770 during daytime hours or by calling 941-2488.

Ms. Wooden receives her masters

Jessica Wooden, a product of the Romulus Community School system, was awarded her master's degree in graduation ceremonies conducted recently at Eastern Michigan University.

Mrs. Wooden, the mother of three sons, is the wife of elder Eld. Hagress, and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lovell Wooden Sr. of Romulus.

This beautiful pavilion was erected in two days by volunteer labor donated by employes and elected officials of Van Buren Township. Above shows how it looked in Van Buren Park as the project got underway on April 25 and below shows the finished project at the end of April 26. Shown above are the workers who donated their time and hard work, including Charles Ries, DPW employee (from left), Bob Morris, DPW; Gary Missant, DPW; Conrad Samonek, township employee; Trustee Fred Domen; Treasurer Tom Welty and Trustee Chester Wojcie. The pavilion will not only enhance Van Buren Park each day, but will be the center of attraction on Van Buren's annual "Family Day" on Sunday, July 26. Huron hears pitch for 4 township police force

By JIM BRADLEY
ANP Staff Writer

Huron Township Board of Trustees listened to a pitch for a four-township police force last week but took no action on a resolution to join the consortium.

W. Curt Boller, supervisor of Brownstown Township, and attorney William DeBiasi presented a 50-minute detailed proposal that would set up a law enforcement consortium to protect the townships of Huron, Brownstown, Sumpter and Van Buren.

However, Huron Board members sat impassively as they heard Boller's energetic plea to at least sit down with the other four communities' leaders and discuss the plan.

"It would not be feasible to have four police departments, four police chiefs and four separate duplications of each part of law enforcement in the four townships," Boller said.

"The law permits a Metropolitan Police Force and the thought was to get together and contract for police protection. The Metropolitan concept has worked extremely well in Los Angeles and other areas where it's been tried."

Boller repeated several times that the resolution was just one of "intent." "Brownstown has passed it. If the four townships (Brownstown, Huron, Sumpter and Van Buren) are not interested in forming their own police force, then we need to know that."

Huron Trustee Gary Bates was leery of the "bottom line" of the resolution brought to them.

"I'm not opposed to getting together with officials of the other communities and discussing the proposal of a Metropolitan Police Force," Bates said. "But this says the meeting will be called for the purpose of creating a special assessment district to fund the police department." Bates added that he was very proud of Huron's local police force.

Boller told Bates the Huron Township Board could alter the resolution in any way they chose.

Huron Supervisor Richard Sullivan asked some questions regarding the present law regarding the levy of millage for police protection, but no other board member spoke on the issue.

George Angel, former Huron Township elected official and present school board trustee, jokingly "asked for equal time" to oppose the proposition.

"We'd be playing right into the hands of the County Board of Commissioners if we approve this resolution," he said. "The county is supposed to provide police protection for the millage we pay them."

Sullivan interrupted Angel's response to tell the veteran official that Boller had simply come to present a proposal, not enter into a debate on the "pros and cons" of the project.

Bates moved to table the resolution, was supported by Fred Ashby, and it passed 7-0.

When asked her feelings about the proposal last Friday, Clerk Mary Lou Carey said, "The township board is going to study this very thoroughly because we know how important good police protection is. But we're opposed to creating a special assessment district without a vote of the people."

Gentle touch

Two local residents received serious injuries when a truck driven by Morris Smith of Kansas City reportedly plowed through a red light and slammed into their vehicles. Rushed to Wayne County General Hospital with a variety of injuries were Michael Williams of Belleville and Pernelle Kincaid of New Boston. The accident occurred on westbound Van Born Rd. near Merriman. According to police, Smith, in the truck, was traveling westbound on Van Born, when his tractor-trailer went through the red light and collided with the victims' cars which were southbound on Merriman. Police said they ticketed Smith for disregarding a traffic signal.

She said that millage for Huron's police department has been turned down several times by the people.

"I personally feel the special assessment district, which can be approved without a vote of the people, is a sneaky way to do it and I'm against levying any taxes without a vote of the people," she said.

One member of the Huron Township Board, who wished to remain anonymous, expressed the opinion that the proposal was "a way to bail Brownstown Township out of their police protection dilemma."

"They are twice as large in population as we are, yet they have not even begun to provide their own police department," the board member said.

In other action at last week's special meeting, the board reconsidered its vote to make the Romulus Roman the township's legal newspaper. Trustee John Puskar said it was no reflection on either newspaper but he did not think the public had sufficient information when it voted unanimously to switch newspapers at the annual meeting last month.

However, after long discussion the board voted 6-0 to retain the Romulus

Roman as the legal paper as voted at the annual meeting. Puskar abstained. Several observers were puzzled why Puskar called for the reconsideration and then abstained when the vote was taken.

CONQUEST sponsors fishing tourney

If Bob Collette, 27, of Brainard, Minnesota, had his way, hunting and fishing would replace baseball as the national past-time.

Collette, founder of a new group called Wheels Afield, is a devote fisherman, hunter, and guide for those who have difficulty telling the difference between a sturgeon and a surgeon. But Collette, a man of long patience with those instantly handicapped by the wilds, still manages to guide his wheelchair as well as those novices to the choice spots.

And it is in the spirit of Collette that two Michigan organizations have announced plans to sponsor the first annual Bob Collette Fishing Tournament for Handicappers.

CONQUEST, a statewide newspaper dedicated exclusively to reporting on the issues of interest to handicappers and seniors, and the Downriver Bass Club of Taylor, have joined together to produce this event that will be open to any Michigan handicapper over the age of 16.

According to Bill Walker, Vice President of the Downriver group, the tournament will be held on Belleville Lake, Van Buren Township, Wayne County, Michigan. To start at 8:30 a.m. sharp out of Sandy's Marina, handicappers will be testing their skills against the fish and each other, competing for trophies that will prove at least one did not get away.

To be held on June 6th, handicappers interested in participating in the first annual Collette tournament should send their $10 entry fee to: Michael Adamson, 7335 Iroquois Dr., Westland, MI 48185.

Upon receipt of the entry fee, entrants will receive by return mail, directions to the tournament and their official entry form. Because of space limitations, participation is limited to the first 50 who respond.

Lunch and limited refreshments will be provided, and an awards ceremony conducted following the tournament.

WHAT EFFECT DOES PRE-PLANNING HAVE ON SURVIVORS?

Generally, there are strong benefits to your survivors! Consider the impact of pre-planning on your survivors: will they understand you want your own wishes carried out and not theirs? That you may wish to economize in your choice of service, casket, etc., instead of putting the choice in their hands when they are under great stress and shock? Will they understand that you want a certain specific order of service? A particular portion of scripture read? Your favorite music? Your designation of minister? And, of course, that you insist on paying for it yourself, sparing them the emotional and financial burdens?

Many of those for whom we have pre-planned funerals have solved these difficult considerations. They have involved their families in the decision-making process. You, too, may wish to invite members of your immediate family to discuss pre-planning with you and with one of our professional funeral counselors.

Once having made your funeral arrangements, your sense of security and accomplishment may be comforting and valuable to you and your loved ones.

Poets praise Columbia, White Cane Week

Pride of Columbia

Columbia the gem of the Cosmos,
America's triumph in space.
A ship that knows no boundary line
Has put us in first place.
There is no limit to our cause
As freedom's reach extends.
With liberty in every field,
Technology transcends.
New birth in pride and country,
Our Heritage did spawn.
Our interstellar program
Has opened a new dawn.
We'll reach the highest zenith,
Far beyond the Moon.
One, with God's great universe
Can never be to soon.
Free enterprise achievements
Were born beneath the sun,
In men like Young and Crippen,
Thanks for a job well done.

Ah to be Able to See

Oh to be able to see the fresh, new bright budding spring, to see the wild flowers of the jack-in-the-pulpits bursting into bloom.
To see the animals among the thick green ferns, and the tall redwood and slivery pine trees in the forest, spreading their huge limbs over God's woodland of mystic hue.
Oh, to be able to see the deep, blue rivers flowing down around this sandy yellow land so sublime.
If I could just see for a moment the faces of my loved ones, to reassure me of the love and trust in their eyes.
The sparkling new, wet dew in the early dawn of morn, Oh, to see a bright new sunrise.
Oh, to be able to see the huge fluffs of white clouds drifting, as the wild birds flying steps take them up, up, high into the beautiful untroubled sky.
So watch the dark incessants of night taking shape, as the mysteries of light and darkness descend around the cluster of endless stars, shadowing the rising full range moon from on high.
Oh to be able to see the array of red, orange, brown, rainbowed — meadow lanes after the first frost of early autumn has passed by.
The winter's star-like snowflakes falling, cold and serene, casting diamond-like-glitter over the cow stacked in the barren fields of snow. As if God's hand reached down and touched this land.
Tears fill my eyes,
This Mother Earth is truly a miraculous and magnificent creation, if you who have sight would take the time to walk, listen, help a blind child to see, and know. Yet, my eyes have never seen. I am blind.
My fingers are my eyes, to touch, to trace, to feel, Oh dear God — to be able to see.

Song for a Friend

Time has no mercy
When it brings itself to an end,
When the hands on the clock stop moving
When it steals away a friend.
A friend who gave you asylum
A shelter for a while,
One whose heart beat in time with yours —
One that guarded your smile.
I guess it's a special kind of person
Who has wisdom in their eyes
And it's a special kind of wisdom
That lives long enough to survive.
Survive times relentless tale
That never goes untold
Survive the times that mortals fail
And the sun becomes so cold.
We used to ride that highway side by side
Now I'm ridin' alone
As I ride against that bitter breeze,
One more passenger has gone home.
'Cause if it's us to share our joys
It must be us to face the rain
If it's us to bring each other happiness
It must be us to bear the pain.
Because the thunder may roar
And the rain may fall
— And the clouds may be unkind —
But within that dark storm crippled sky —
There's a rainbow —
Your face looking into mine.

Though inside this house may echo
With the emptiness I must face
Inside the warm summer rain —
I hear your gentle voice — in the warm sun is your embrace.

For these are the things that you loved
For now you're luckier than me or anyone
'Cause the things that I love, I can only miss
But the things you once loved — You've become.

Life from a Fishing Bowl

It's true
I'm a blue whale
As blue as blue can be
Because of the fact
I'm not in the sea.
I'm stuck in this fishbowl
Till my days black end
And I don't really care
For I have no friends.
Because two whales
Don't fit
In one fishbowl
That is the reason

I don't feel whole.
I feel a part is missing
A part unknown
And I won't find it
Until I get back home.
Back in the ocean
Back in the sea
Back with my friends
Is where I want to be.

Economy will keep vacationers close to home, they say

Camp operators expect 'excellent season'

Michigan's private campground operators expect one of their best seasons as more families vacation close to home and camp to stretch their summer recreation dollars, according to the Automobile Club of Michigan.

"The state's continuing economic problems are helping spur a turn to camping vacations which began last summer," stated Auto Club Touring Manager Joseph Ratke.

"More than 63 percent of the 261 private campgrounds responding to an Auto Club survey reported business up an average 6 percent last summer. Thirty-four percent reported business drops and three percent reported no change. That compares with 1979, when more than half of those surveyed reported a business drop.

So far this spring, the number of season leases — renting a site for the entire summer — are up nearly 30 percent over last year at many private parks, more than a month before the season's traditional Memorial Day holiday start.

Many operators also report short term reservations approximately 5 percent above last year, with most campers planning longer stays than in the past, Auto Club stated.

Further indications that more persons are choosing Michigan and camping for their vacations are a 6 percent rise in sales of state park entry permits despite a $3 price increase and Auto Club's first-quarter statistics showing a 15 percent rise in member routing requests for Michigan destinations, when compared with the same period in 1980.

Prices and services are among the main reasons campers are choosing private parks, Auto Club said.

Private parks on Auto Club's guide will charge an average $6.42 nightly for a campsite with electricity. State parks charge up to $6 nightly, plus a $2 daily or $10 annual entry fee. There is also a $3 fee to reserve a state park site, with no such fee at private parks.

Private park owners plan a number of activities for campers, ranging from conducted bus tours to nearby cities and hikes through secluded forestland to family oriented events such as hay and horseback rides, cookouts, free movies and dances. Because of state budget cuts, services including interpretative programs and life guards will be limited at many state parks.

Auto Club's 1981 private park guide lists 359 facilities with 34,361 sites, more than half the state's approximately 60,000 campsites.

State park campsites total 13,984, up 72 from last summer. There are 3,375 state forest campground sites, 162 less than a year ago. Federal and county, township and city sites number 2,415 and 8,200, respectively.

Campers planning a private campground stay will find swimming either in pools or lakes at 256 facilities. All but three have at-site electricity. Water and sewage hook-ups are available at 282 and 150 parks respectively.

Besides seasonal site leasing offered at 283 private campgrounds, campers can save gasoline and store motor homes and trailers at 241 facilities for nominal monthly fees. There is no storage at state parks.

To encourage stays in northern Lower and Upper Michigan, reservation rules have been eased at certain state park campgrounds. Families may reserve sites by telephone anytime before arrival. Reservations must reach all other state parks at least seven days before arrival.

Parks where telephone reservations are accepted are: Aloha and Cheboygan, near Cheboygan, Burt Lake, near Indian River, Hoeft, near Rogers City, Interlochen near Traverse City, Young, near Boyne City, Orchard Beach, near Manistee, Clear Lake, near Lanta, Onaway, North Higgins Lake, near Roscommon, and all Upper Peninsula state park campgrounds.

Social Security

Q: My 12-year-old sister recently came to live with me so that she can attend school here. My mother is still getting her social security checks. Since I am paying all of my sister's expenses, can I get the checks instead of my mother.

A: The Social Security Administration makes every effort to serve the best interest of children beneficiaries. If you feel that it is in your sister's best interest for you to manage her social security checks, you should file an application to be made her representative payee. Whether you or her mother is representative payee, the law requires that the money be spent to meet your sister's current living expenses or, if they are all met, saved for her. Even if you don't file to be representative payee, you should notify social security that your sister is now living with you.

Q: My father was severely injured in an accident and may have to be in the hospital for several months. I want him to apply for disability benefits but he cannot go to the social security office. Can I apply for him?

A: Unless your father is unable to do so, he should file his own application. If he is unable to visit a social security office, he can either apply by telephone or request that a social security representative visit him in the hospital. If he is unable to do either right away, you can notify social security that he intends to file a claim; then, when he does file (if within 6 months), his application will be treated as if it had been filed at the time of your notice.

Do you have a question about social security? Write Ms. Frances Heimes-Savickis at the Social Security Administration, P.O. Box 411, Inkster, Michigan 48141.

Van Buren experiment pays off

School bus fleet runs on diesel power

The Van Buren School District has become the first in the country to convert its entire bus fleet to diesel power — Detroit Diesel power.

The rural/suburban district surrounding Belleville, just west of Romulus, sold its entire fleet of gasoline-powered buses last summer. The district began this school year with 46 new Ford school buses, all equipped with 8.2-liter Fuel Pincher engines and Allison AT 545 automatic transmissions.

To the school district, it was a risk, but a calculated risk. At the time the bids were taken, neither the engine nor the transmission was in production. And, the school's previous experience had been only with gasoline-powered buses and manual shift transmissions.

Careful calculations by Jack M. Hosmer, director of business and finance for the Van Buren schools, showed that increasing fuel costs, frequent engine tune-ups and clutch replacements were taking bigger and bigger bites out of the annual operating budget.

"Our decision to bid diesel engines was based strictly on economics," says Hosmer. "When we compared present fuel costs with projected increases, we began looking at diesel engines as a way to achieve better mileage and lower fuel costs.

"We also decided on the automatic transmissions at that point, based on our problems with clutches in our former fleet," he says.

Hosmer says they were just a few weeks away from bids on the new buses when they learned about the new Detroit Diesel Allison plant. It was being prepared in Romulus for the production of a new diesel engine, the Fuel Pincher.

Hosmer called the plant and was directed to Al Koziel, 8.2 program manager in the Detroit Operations sales department. "He invited us over for a plant tour and a presentation on the new engine," Hosmer says. Van Buren arranged to have the Fuel pincher included in the bid specifications based on what they had seen and heard.

"We were interested in covering all of the available options but, honestly, had some real reservations about buying a brand new product. We were most interested in the International Harvester buses with the IH DT-466 diesel engines."

When the bids were opened, there really was no choice. The price differential between the Ford buses with the Fuel Pinchers and AT 545s and the IH buses and engines was too great to ignore.

Based on its experience in the first few months of operation, the Van Buren School District couldn't be happier with its decision. The new buses have been averaging about 8.5 miles per gallon, compared with only 4.4 mpg with the former gas-powered buses. The change has allowed the school to cut its fuel budget by 40 percent from last year.

Other savings have accrued as well: bus fueling is now done only once a week instead of every other day; engine tune-ups have been all but eliminated; and, clutch replacements are a thing of the past.

"The Van Buren Schools were the first and went the furthest by converting their entire fleet to Fuel Pincher diesel power," says Al Koziel. "But they definitely won't be the last. The Fuel Pincher/AT 545 combination is ideal for school bus applications. There will be many more around the country as our reputation spreads."

While federal monies are on their way to make a study of the nitrogen level in Belleville Lake, it didn't stop these anglers to try their luck and bait on the myriads of fish that inhabit the waters. Fishing is good.

according to the score of anglers who take to their boats for the sport. Some also fish — when the police officers are not looking — off the bridge illegally.

County Commissioners fail to agree on ETV formula

The refusal by a majority of Wayne County Commissioners to approve the 1981 county equalized tax valuation Thursday is no cause for taxpayer celebration, according to County Corporation Counsel George Cross.

An assertion by Commissioner Richard E. Manning, during the full board meeting, that there is inconsistency in the multiplier factor being used to determine assessed valuation of homes resulted in the board's action.

Cross said the county is obliged to submit the study to the state by May 4, and, he added, because of the depth of the study prepared by the county's Bureau of Taxation, it is likely the state will adopt it in total despite the commissioners' intransigence.

Samual A. Turner, Chairman of the Board of Commissioners, has scheduled a special board meeting for 2:00 p.m., Tuesday, to allow commissioners a chance to discuss with the corporation counsel the ramifications that can result from the board's refusal to adopt the report.

The total recommended equalized value of the County of Wayne for 1981 is $18,133,120,119—up from 1980 estimates by $1.5 billion, according to George E. McEachran, director of the Bureau of Taxation. "Certified inventory loss," he said, "remains at a little over $1.5 billion."

Act 114 of Public Acts of 1979 requires equalization by class and as a result factors are now presented for each classification of property. This differs, McEachran said, from previous years where one factor was presented for each community. All but the communities of Hamtramck, Highland Park and River Rouge gained in value.

Sitting as a Committee on Equalization, General Government members headed by Commissioner Paul G. Citkowski, urged the board's adoption.

Manning cited several communities with factors that will result in property owners paying hundreds of dollars more than in previous years.

Views On Dental Health
By PHILIP MEIZELS, D.D.S.

PAUL REVERE - THE DENTIST

How about a little dental trivia? History records Paul Revere as the man who made the important ride on the night of April 18, 1775, as well as being a skilled silversmith. But the history books never mention the fact that Paul Revere was a practicing dentist. A student of John Baker, the first English dentist to come to America, Paul not only carved false teeth from ivory but concocted a dentifrice that contained abrasive substances and various mixtures such as cuttlebone, brown sugar candy, saltpeter and gunpowder, butter and bread crumbs. We don't know if it sold too well.

How far back does the use of nitrous oxide (laughing gas) go in the annals of dentistry? In 1884, Dr. Horace Wells, an American Dentist, demonstrated the properties of nitrous oxide by using it on himself while having his own tooth extracted.

How much dental care is needed today? It has been estimated that if every dentist spent 24 hours a day, every day of the year, just filling cavities, there would still be one billion cavities left unfilled in the United States.

A public service to promote better dental health. From the office of PHILIP MEIZELS, D.D.S., 9840 Haggerty Rd., Belleville, Phone 697-4400.

Listen to Small business

When you consider that nine out of every 10 small businesses fail in the United States, you'd have to run scared if you are planning to open doors to one.

And when you also consider that government overtaxes, places more restrictions and regulations on small businesses than its counterparts, the large corporations and companies, it is difficult for us to comprehend why any sane person would risk his capital in such risky ventures.

But the American dream was built on the proposition that given the drive, the opportunity and incentive, one can own his own business — large or small.

The climate for the small businesses is finally changing. Last year, Governor Milliken helped set in motion a series of forums on small businesses to receive input from the business community on how government and business can work together to solve and resolve some of their problems.

The forums will climax next week (May 11, 12 and 13) in Lansing where delegates — appointed by the governor as well as chosen from the ranks — will convene at Long's Convention Center for the inaugural statewide conference on small businesses.

We urge the Governor and the legislators to seriously take into consideration the recommendations these 2,000 and more delegates will place before him.

The conference itself is a decisive victory for the small businesses in that it is the first serious attempt by small business to bring together a very diversified sector and show a united front.

Government has become aware of some of the problems this group has, but being aware is not enough. It has starved business to death, now they have an opportunity to save them.

We urge the state legislators and Governor Milliken to offer incentives, open the doors of opportunity and make greater capital available to small business, the alternative can be drastic, even fatal for the state, and the country.

Michigan can be the "sunbelt" of the North, if the Governor provides the right climate for small business.

Historic moment for Romulus

These are historic times in Romulus as the city establishes its own police department.

Wayne County has been contracted to protect Romulus for many years but with the Deputies scheduled to be pulled out on May 19, the city is faced with the necessity of starting its own law enforcement agency.

Mayor William M. Oakley and City Council have met that challenge head-on and have been working together to forge a police department the past several weeks.

Even in the best of times it is not easy to create a police force. In these days of uncertain economic conditions, it is even more difficult.

Making the job even more challenging for Mayor Oakley has been the inability or the unwillingness of the Board of Commissioners to work out a settlement on the police contract. For the past few weeks, Oakley has been working with the Romulus Police Committee in cutting the original list of nearly 500 applicants to a number less than one-tenth that size.

Romulus did not know from day to day whether the county would offer to extend police protection past May 19 or not. Oakley and the Council members were hoping against hope that the county would respond. However, it did not.

Now it is "full speed ahead" with Romulus' own police department and it's going to take everyone in the city, working together, to provide the law enforcement everyone desires.

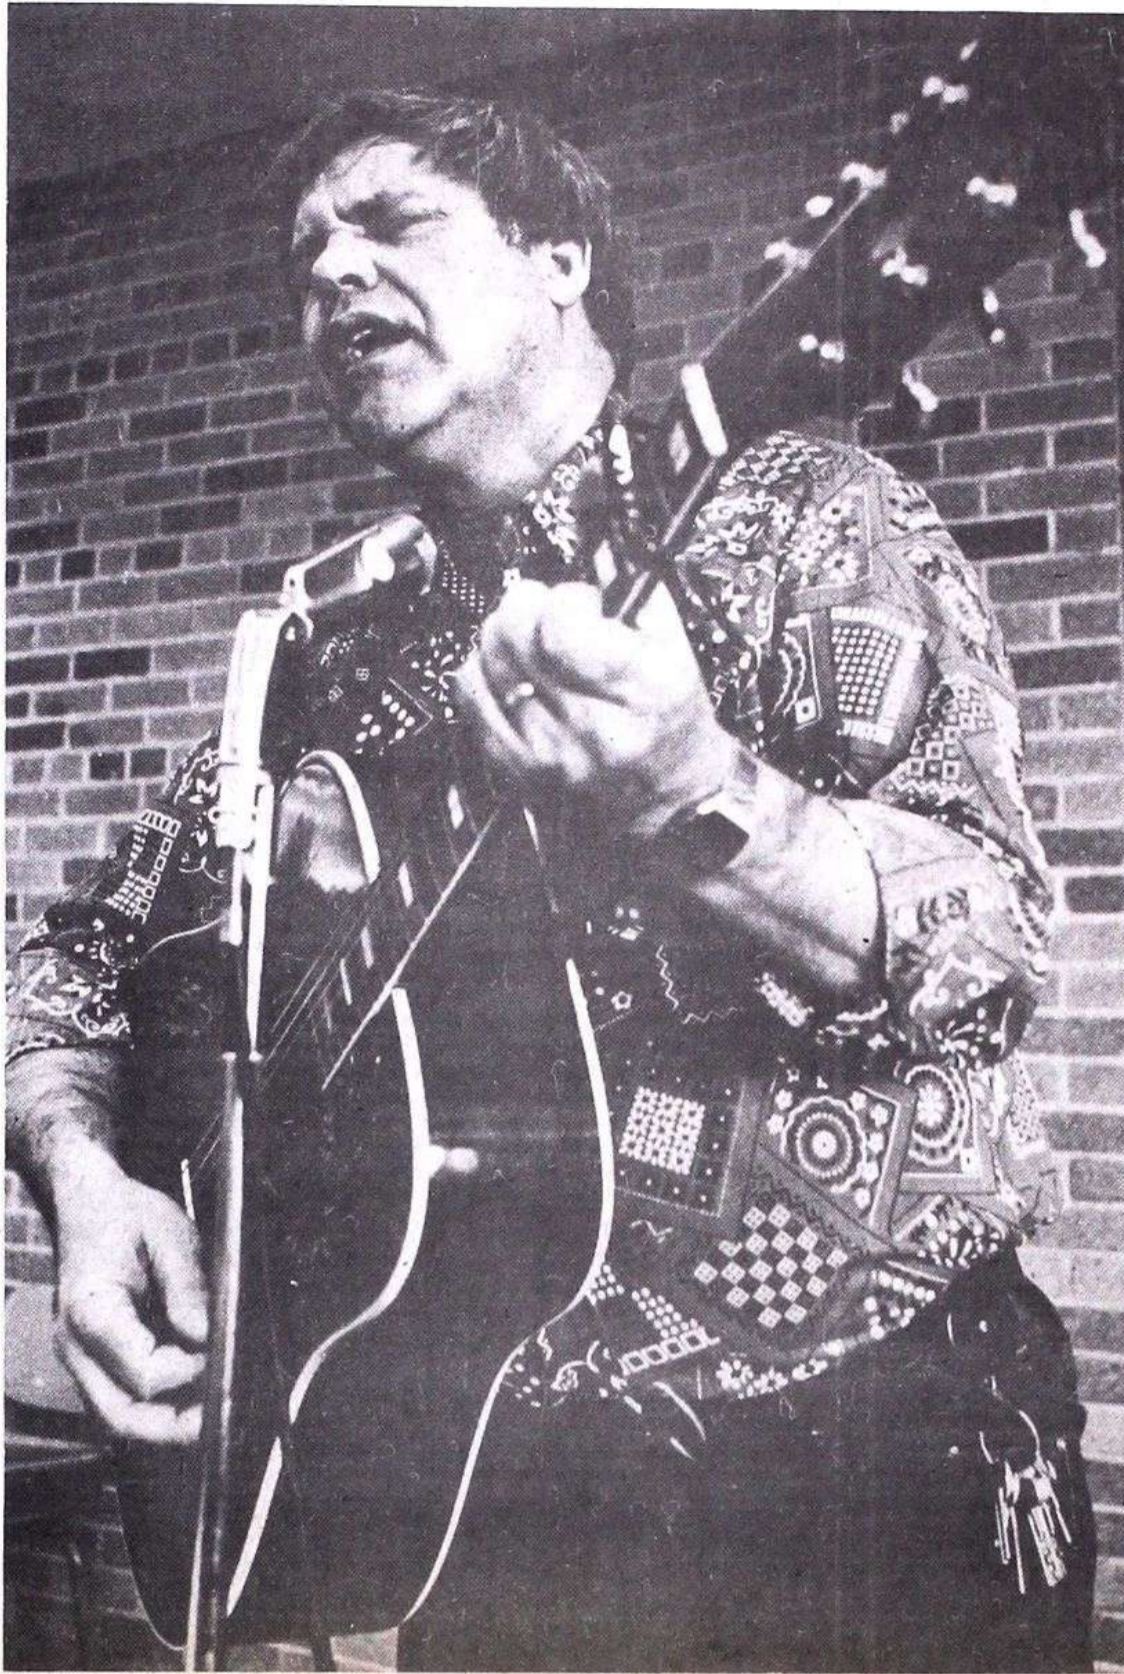

There is no doubt that most of the responsibility rests on the shoulders of Mayor Oakley. He is faced with a tremendous challenge and he has responded well in the face of adverse and unsettled circumstances the past two months.

He deserves a lot of credit, we feel, as well as all of our support. Council, too, has responded well to approve all the needs the mayor has requested.

Among those needs are the leasing of a vacant school to be used for police headquarters and the acquiring of a new police chief. Donald R. Flood, a 25-year veteran command officer with Michigan State Police, comes to Romulus with the highest qualifications.

Support proposed charter

As Wayne County Charter Commissioners, we feel and appreciate the responsibility and seriousness of the public mandate to create a charter that governs all the diverse and varied interests of all the people of Wayne County.

The problems of Wayne County ranging from budget deficits to shrinking tax and population base has created economic havoc and isolation among the people of Wayne County.

The alienation and separation of out-county and city people compels us to recognize the importance promoting unity. As Charter Commissioners of Wayne County, we know, unless all the people of the county are willing to join forces in the struggle to resolve our problems, there will be no solution.

We recognize that alienation and division has affected not only the county but the entire nation. We particularly are concerned with that lack of togetherness that has allowed our children in Atlanta and Oakland County to be victimized and slaughtered by vicious killers who stalk and roam freely among the populations of those areas.

We feel society has not made the total concerted and necessary efforts to identify and remove those elements from our communities.

When Wayne County and America realize how important it is to set aside our differences and concentrate on our mutual needs and goals, we shall create an environment and a nation where all people are safe, not only children and our President. Let us work and pray for this mutual and realistic goal of peace and harmony for all.

Don't call me road Commissioner

You can call me County Commissioner... You can call me YOUR Commissioner... but please do not call me drain commissioner, civil service commissioner or ROAD COMMISSIONER.

Not a day goes by without my being contacted by a resident of my district asking me to take care of their poorly maintained road.

I am pleased to work with the Road Commission to get a response to any and all citizen complaints and problems... however, one thing must be understood.

I am not on the Wayne County Road Commission. I do not have any say over what work they do or not do. The Road Commission employees do not work for the Board of Commissioners.

The Wayne County Road Commission is not a part of the general fund of Wayne County. Not one dollar of property tax revenue goes to the Road Commission. The money used to maintain roads and plow snow comes nearly 100% from the gas and weight tax revenue collected.

The Road Commission is run by a three member Road Commission, each appointed for a six year term.

I cannot pick up the phone and tell the Road Commission what to do with their money. What I do is to work with the resident in trying to get the Road Commission to solve his problem. This is the one area that I spend most of my time... serving as an ombudsman for the residents that have problems with the Road Commission. Yet I have no say over their operation.

So, please do continue to call me with your problems with the Road Commission and I will see that an answer is returned immediately. But please recognize that under the law with which we operate I do not run the Road Commission.

Perhaps we should rename the Commission the Michael Berry Road Commission — that way there will be no confusion.

The Bible, heaven forbid!

By TOM MOORADIAN
Managing Editor

The world according to the American Civil Liberties representatives is one without Bibles in the public schools.

It's all right to keep the Communist Manifesto, Das Kapital or Mien Kampf on the school book shelves, those revolutionary philosophies that preach war and violence.

But the Bible, heaven forbid. It has no place in our schools.

Last week this office received numerous calls from residents in the Belleville and Van Buren areas informing us to turn on WAAM, the radio station out of Ypsilanti.

The station was broadcasting, the callers said, something about the Van Buren school board approving a resolution to allow Gideons to present fifth graders with Bibles upon the approval of the student's parents.

It has been a practice in that school district, and others to do so.

"The Supreme Court has made it clear about the separation of school and church," one caller informed us. "That, even through this practice has been established in the past, and even though books are received on a voluntary basis, it doesn't necessarily mean that it is still not unconstitutional."

Irony isn't it, that the courts and the groups like the American Civil Liberties would attack the Bible, a book that advocates brotherly love, while it doesn't take a stand against the Communist Manifesto which preaches worldwide revolution and terror.

Dr. Elvin Peets, superintendent of the Van Buren Community School District, points out "that the township is a strong Christian one."

"I do not see a conflict between the Supreme Court ruling and what we did, so long as procedurally the parents have the alternative to say, 'Yes,' distribute the book to my child, or 'no,' we don't want one."

Supt. Peets went on to say that "as long as I have been here — and that's been the past three years — it's been a practice of the Gideons to pass out the Bibles to the fifth graders."

"I can also speak to my previous experience in other Michigan school districts," Supt. Peets continued. "I used to work in Jackson county and that same distribution (of the Bibles) took place over there, I know. I think the Gideons have been doing this for a long, long time."

With the threat of a court suit hanging over the school district, the Gideons turned the other cheek and said that they would withdraw the offer.

I wonder about our values.
Don't you?

I'm Lynda Beckman -- I'm an alcoholic

I would like to take some space to clear up a couple of misconceptions some people have about "Alcoholics."

I do this not in defense of myself but for my children.

A.A. is a group of people who have a common problem. These people have bodies that cannot tolerate alcohol.

Some say it's a disease, physical, social, whatever. To me it is a serious problem that I have.

My name is Lynda Beckman and I'm an alcoholic.

I'm doing this not to boast, but so there will be no mistake about my identity.

Let these people understand clearly that I'm spelling it out for you so you don't bring me up at a social crowd for my children's friends or family to defend me!

This you may consider an open AA meeting speech. I'm a person whose system cannot tolerate alcohol. I literally lose my sanity. Bluntly I was destroying myself and those who were around me, friends, family and foe. I wrecked one marriage, but managed through the grace of God to save two sons by giving custody to their father and staying completely out of their life.

Unfortunately, I remarried and almost destroyed six other children. I drank until I didn't know which way was up. My six children were my parents from the time they could reach the bottle for me.

If it wasn't booze it was pills.

It got so bad that my kids would hide each time they saw a bottle in my hand. I was active in school, "church" and other community affairs as long as I had that pill or bottle of booze, whatever. One year ago on May 15 I really got bad, from what I heard (you see, I was in a blackout at the time). Six of Van Buren, Belleville, and Wayne County took me in. I was a wild person. They took me to a place called Eloise. Not pretty inside even to visit. I know because I had spent two days there which was pure "HELL."

Fortunately, Eloise was closed so they suggested a place called Detroit Memorial Alcoholic program, more "affectionately" known as "2-1". That became my home for 21 days. That afternoon all I wanted was a bed.

Instead, I got a plate of food in a dining room with around 30 other people. I swear they were all watching me as I watched the rice dancing around on my plate!

Finally a bed, only to be aroused two hours later.

After the opening of the meeting we grouped into three separate tables of 12 each. Here we each had a turn to talk, again the cold sweat but I talked, and that night I even got a few hours of sleep, restless, all the less it was sleep.

At 7 a.m. I was in awe of myself. I was dressed, my bed made, and a weak attempt at breakfast. Was this a dream or was it really me? Then came the morning meeting. Of course I tried to sit in back.

A black man came up, reached for my hand and said, "Lynda, your family, come join us. From that day on I learned the definition of "Human Race". We are a select group, not a color or certain religion. We were and still are united as a whole to fight a disease, of which we are afflicted. We are a fellowship of young and old, black, yellow, white, of any religion or none, of all ethnic backgrounds, you name it, yep, that's us! We share a problem and we are a proud people, poor, rich, whatever. We are alcoholics.

Those 21 days changed my life. I saw life grow where all was dead. I grew day by day. I'm still Lynda who is far from perfect, who in this world is?

I yell at my kids. I don't clean house as good as I could, but I'm sober. Are you really sure of what will happen in your life tonight? I'm still goofy and play around but my kids like me a bit more now. The kids still have their chores but now they are not "afraid" of having friends come over. I've lost one daughter because of this, plus two sons 13 and 15 whom I love and haven't seen in 5 years. My heart aches. I Love and miss each of my children. Yes, I've paid my dues.

The teacher quality dispute

EDITOR — I would appreciate the opportunity to thank Kevin Wilson for his letter that you published in the YOUR OPINIONS column dated April 1 and 2.

I found it very supportive, although I suspect he didn't mean it to be. He suggested my criticism is unjustified and "ignorant", yet his letter did not deny my statements and did nothing to improve my "ignorance".

In fact, I found his criticism of his own profession even more harsh than mine.

May I address Mr. Wilson, who said: "To say that teachers only work six hours a day, 180 days a year is at the least, a very ignorant statement." What I said was, those are the hours a teacher is paid for working. You did not prove any different. (I do not presume to know what you do in your spare time.) I did not mention that out of the 6 hours, one hour is usually kept free for planning time.

The argument is, "That's $5,000 less than the average unskilled auto worker." That unskilled auto worker does hard physical or tedious labor 8 or more hours a day, 5 or more days a week, all year long. He doesn't have EPIC days, three months off at summer time, two weeks at Christmas, and one or two more for Spring vacation. And he doesn't have the same job security most teachers enjoy. I feel $15 or more an hour is indeed a very good wage for a permanent part-time job.

He went on to write, "I agree there are many incompetent teachers.

There are unethical doctors, crooked cops, and lazy teachers. There are 'bad apples' in every profession."

If I were buying a bushel of apples and knew many of them were rotten, I would demand that the rotten ones be replaced or consider myself a fool to buy it. I can choose my children's doctor. I can report a crooked cop and expect him to be discharged. I have no control over my children's teacher.

He also feels: "parents, administrators, and school boards must stop passing the buck." Yet it is not the parent, administrator, or school board member who stands in front of the classroom. It is the teacher.

He is right when he says: "valuable teaching time is spent doing other jobs." Jobs you have no business doing. You are not qualified to correct "emotional and mental problems". You shouldn't be expected to teach birth control or sex. You shouldn't be asked to teach atheism or make up for "unstable home lives". You shouldn't be expected to campaign for millages, or be responsible for implementing learning concepts that you feel are unsound, (new math, open classroom, behavior mod, etc.). I agree with him completely. Why don't you refuse? All my children's teachers know to contact me if there is a behavior problem and I will correct it. I do not want your help raising my children. Maybe it is the teacher we should remind "what the teaching profession is all about"?

If we all worked together to improve what goes on in the classroom, we would all benefit, especially the children. Accountability would raise the quality of instruction and it would help weed out the 'bad apples'.

I attended school here as a child. I have worked as a volunteer and as a para-professional. I have five children who go to school here. I know there are dedicated and excellent teachers. I also know there are ones who are a disgrace to the profession. It is to those teachers I refer to as incompetent. The letter writer does not deny that they exist, only that they have a right to be incompetent, and lazy because there are 'bad apples' in every profession.

My friends say I am naive and idealistic, and maybe they are right. I truly believe that a teacher is someone special. I trust them with the most important part of my life, my children. I have a right to expect them to deserve that trust. And I have the right to expect quality education.

I will no longer sit and say it is the 'system'.

We own the system—and if we don't insist it improve it won't. If you expect nothing, you can't be disappointed when that is what you get.

I have a cousin who attended Wayne Memorial. When he wanted to quit school, his counselor told him: "If you will come to school every day, you will graduate. You don't have to do any of the work, just be here, and I will see to it you get your diploma."

Where were all the dedicated teachers, administrators, parents and board members when we allowed the value of a diploma to be reduced to nothing but an attendance award?

Our volunteer program is BIG business. We pay three co-ordinators to co-ordinate the program. (I don't know how many consultants.) I would estimate the program costs at least $60,000 a year, that the volunteers never see. It must be nice to earn tax dollars telling taxpayers how to use their time doing what they are paying to have done. Why don't we ask these co-ordinators to volunteer their time?

A tribute to ANP's Joyce

EDITOR—Just a line to let you know that I appreciate Joyce Hagelthorn's weekly column as much today, as I did the week following my hiring of her.

Joyce's piece on her brother-in-law's death was exceptional, which is not unusual for Joyce.

I found myself 'Reflecting' on those close to me and the often overlooked word of love that should have been said, but wasn't.

I will get up tomorrow a little wiser, a little more considerate, and a lot more appreciative of those who are so important to me today.

She has again given me a new perspective on life, a perspective she has the unique ability to restore every once in a while when it is most needed. I will not soon forget those words she wrote, "Sweetheart, I'm here. Let your spirit go free, I love you. I will love you forever."

I continue to marvel at the impact those words had on me and many others as well, I'm sure.

Thanks Joyce. You made me think when I didn't have time to think. You made me feel when I didn't have time to feel, and worst of all, you made me hurt when you forced me to realize that the most important things we can do for others costs nothing, takes little time, but still is overlooked.

'Thank you' for coverage

EDITOR—If there was a "Good Neighbor Award" I would nominate my neighbor. His 3 children made a mess in my back yard, and not only did he see to it that the mess was cleaned up, an apology came from his children to me.

The father was very co-operative. If more parents would except responsibility for their children's actions there would be less strained relationships with neighbors. I personally wish to thank Officer Craus for his kind and assuring words of comfort, as I was ill and quite upset over this incident.

A salute to my neighbor, and the two officers for a job well done.

Fishing Derby was just great

EDITOR—Once again, a Wayne community group comes through to help the Eighth Annual Fishing Derby become a great success. This past weekend the Wayne Jaycees and Jayettes gave their unselfishness to help the city and the 1,000 youngsters participate in this year's Fishing Derby.

The Wayne Recreation Department would like to express their sincerest appreciation to the Jaycees and Jayettes for their help through the cold and wet weather.

I think the citizens of Wayne should be proud and honored to have a group like the Jaycees and Jayettes serve their city.

Marshmallow drop wasn't sweet

EDITOR—I took my grand-daughter to the Marshmallow Drop, the other day. I'm sure most people know where that was held, 'cause I think most everyone in Wayne was there, including the kids. Well, I thought it was for the kids. I took my grand-daughter, since she is five, and couldn't go by herself.

When we got there the crowd was so large it took us fifteen minutes to walk from the north end of the field to the 'south' gate. Then, the speaker blared out that the five and six year olds were to line up. He also said the parents, grand parents, and others who came with the kids could line up, too.

Then, he said everyone six or under line up. Now I guess, I'm sort of dumb, 'cause I thought he meant 'us' adults might feel more easy about it if we escorted our little ones to the line while waiting for them to run when the 'drop' was made.

'Seems like I was the only one that Did ANP 'forget' Huron recall?

EDITOR—Jim Bradley's glowing tribute to Mary Lou Carey left out a very important fact—there is a recall being conducted to remove her from office. What does one say about a journalist who writes a one-sided story?

Is there any particular reason this article was written after the Romulus Roman became the Huron township newspaper?

Why is the article about the Township Clerk? Why not about the three Trustees who are trying to clean up the police department and provide a real service to township residents?

THE ETERNAL BATTLE

*Morn breaks upon the fateful day,
Yet of what will come, none will say.
Silence speaks in ominous tone;
Every man feels now alone.*

*He views the battlefield at hand;
Familiar becomes strange, new land.
The bugle call is clearly heard;
Mortality is but a word.
With weapon tightly in his grip,
Moisture gleams upon brow and lip.*

*He must be shrewd, acute and calm;
"Go unafraid", becomes his Psalm.
Conquer or fall—he will not ask,
Thoughts too trained for the vital task.
Maneuvering with keen finesse,
The enemy he must address.*

*Hearing not the thundering sky,
He strikes and yields the hours by.
The numbers climb of those that fall,
Yet hosts remain, undaunted all.
Tenaciously he carries on,
Until at last all strength has gone.*

*The long day ends; now chime the clocks
His trembling hand gropes for the box.
He has done the deed to his max;
Made-out, signed, mailed the income tax.*

Reflections

So men now want equal rights...

While I was in California I read an article about a group of men who were banding together for the sole purpose of equal rights for men.

Well, I think it's about time. Have you ever really thought about men?

Before you get all harried about what I am about to say, let me hasten to assure you that I believe in women having equal rights. But, somehow, it seems to me that it's being overdone.

Actually I don't think I'm going to be able to stand many more women's rights. Just think of it. Think about your grandma. When she became a mother, did she have the right to have a car, so that every two hours she had to jump into it and pick up kids from basketball practice, ballet, swimming, or college for Pete's sake?

Did she have the right to be a short-order cook according to her family's yens?

Did she have the right to go out and hold down a job, making more money than the breadwinner, while holding down a full time job making the beds, cooking the meals, wiping dirty noses, tying shoes, and picking up kids from everywhere which way?

And besides all this, she had to think about being a perfect wife, and a fantastic lover.

Tell you, one more right will see me in a straitjacket.

I think in the past few years men have been made underdogs, and I was happy to read that they are coming out from under the heavy female foot and exerting themselves in regaining their rights.

You don't agree with me that men are underdogs?

How about the man who comes home from a hard day at the office, where he no longer has his coffee brought to him... or even made for that matter. A day where he has had to do everything for himself, except type his letters and file them.

He is tired, and all he wants is to find a quiet spot at home where he can put his feet up, sip a cool drink that has been prepared for him by loving hands, and read the paper until dinner time.

This is a dream all men have. I know they have it because my husband tells me about the recurring dream he has had ever since I discovered I have rights, and young men tell me about THEIR dreams that NEVER were realized, because women have been open to this new awareness of their rights since those young men got married.

What really happens? There is no quiet spot. The kids have been driving their mother nuts all day and so it is now Daddy's turn to be driven nuts.

If he wants any dinner he has to take the kids out for a game of ball, or whatever. Even if the kids were quiet, he wouldn't get to read the paper, because the paper has already been read by friend wife and since there isn't anything in it, she has thrown it away so it won't clutter up the house.

After dinner, he thinks yearningly of a quiet spot with the kids in bed, but the wife has had it. Those kids have driven her nuts all day, and she wants him to take her out to a movie.

"But we don't have the money," he might say, thinking of the fees the female baby-sitters now charge.

"If you wanted to play poker you would be able to come up with the money," she points out, and while in the old days the husband would point out that since he earns that money he has a right to spend it the way he wants... not any more.

So he goes to the movies, but first he has to assure her they are not going to any movie rated PG.

"I want to see a movie like everyone is talking about. You know, the big R type, or maybe a couple of X's," she says.

The husband knows better than to argue since anyone knows you can't win an argument with a woman who has her sights set on porno, even though she isn't really the porno type.

Naturally, HE doesn't want to see that kind of a movie. He realizes that it will do nothing to elevate his consciousness, but he submits.

And what happens? On the way home she screams at him, accusing him of having known it was a filthy, dirty movie before he took her there, and how embarrassed she was just thinking about how it looked if anyone saw her coming out of there.

And besides all that, she didn't understand it.

Just what did it actually mean?

He says he is tired and he is going to bed, but, of course, she won't let him go to bed until he tells her what that movie actually was all about. So he tells her. And she screams some more.

"All men have dirty minds," she cries and grabbing her blanket and her pillow she makes him sleep on the couch.

See what I mean about men being underdogs, and it's about time for them to band together to ensure having equal rights?

All's fair in love, and garage sales

Signs of spring are everywhere, tra la. The tulips, the robins, the ice cream men are here... and so, happy days, are the garage sales.

I love garage sales. I love garage sale signs. I even love the telephone poles that hold the garage sale signs.

A while back, I was driving through a blinding blizzard when, as though it had been predestined, the snow stopped swirling long enough for me to catch a glimpse of a small white square attached to — it was! — a telephone pole.

I dared not dream it was a garage sale sign.

It was probably for a lost dog. Or worse, it was probably left over from last summer. No, it was too white... and besides, my car had switched to automatic pilot, veered over into the other lane and was nosing determinedly toward the pole. It was a garage sale and it was happening now.

Even though the sign in front had blown away and I had to crawl through drifts to reach the mailbox, where I scraped away snow and ice to check the address, I finally found the house.

The woman was huddled over a small electric heater, reading a Harlequin Romance, trying to keep warm.

I said, "How much are you asking for the heater?"

She looked up at me as though the Ghost of Christmas Past had suddenly appeared at her door.

"Are you really here for the garage sale? Oh, I'm so excited! You're my first customer. Oh, Bless you, Bless you!"

Here, come sit by the heater. Have a cup of coffee."

She put down her Harlequin Romance. "You know," she said, "I don't know what came over me. I just couldn't stand all that junk anymore. I was cleaning out my basement, and pretty soon I had moved everything out to the garage, and then I was putting on price tags, and, before I could stop myself, I was pounding signs into telephone poles. You must think I'm crazy."

"Crazy?" I shouted, "I think you're wonderful! Do you know how long I've waited for this moment?" I had a cup of coffee with June (we were on a first-name basis by then — we even exchanged addresses so we could add them to our Christmas card lists) and bought nearly everything she had.

I just couldn't help myself. I hesitated over the matched set of Tupperware popsicle makers, having 47 of the little things in my kitchen cupboard already, but in the end I bought those, too.

I've never made a Tupperware popsicle — I always forget — but I figure you can never have enough Tupperware. I keep them on hand, too, in case someone I really like invites me to a Tupperware party. I can pull out all 47 pieces of genuine Tupperware and say honestly that I've got Tupperware coming out of my ears. We never have to mention the party again.

Garage sales are funny things. Garage sales are funny people. They are flea marketeers on the road again. "All's fair in love and Garage Sales"

Banding together

Crackerbarrel group entertains Wayne-Westland audiences

By DENNIS NIEMIEC
Playtime Coordinator

They're known as "The Crackerbarrel."

Since 1976 students at Adams Junior High in Westland have banded together with assistant principal Lloyd Preston to perform their special version of Country-Western favorites. Clad in their Western shirts and jeans they entertain senior citizens, school and service groups every year.

And if the thought of 13 and 14 year-olds singing Hank Williams and Willie Nelson tunes with the school disciplinary surprises you, it shouldn't. Not when the band's founder is a country boy from Salyersville, Kentucky.

"I started the Crackerbarrel as a form of PR (public relations) for the school and the district," explained Preston, a guitar player and singer. "In my job I work most of the time with negative kids — the 10 percent who are troublemakers. I wanted to spend more time with the positive kids because the majority are nice kids.

"We have certain requirements for members of the group," he continued. "They must make a commitment to attend our scheduled shows; maintain at least a C average (most have a B average and above); show good citizenship

"They all like rock music but I can't sing that. You don't have to sing good to sing country."—Lloyd Preston in school, and they must attend classes regularly. We do about 20 shows a year for no charge and the performances are worked around the students' other activities in most cases."

This year approximately 40 students auditioned for the Crackerbarrel, a number eventually trimmed to the current roster of 13. Included in the group's repertoire are seven Country-Western songs with musical accompaniment provided by Preston and guitarist Sarah Okray.

But why Crackerbarrel? "I come up with that after eating in a Crackerbarrel restaurant near Nashville some years ago," Preston explained. "A crackerbarrel was a general store which sold crackers out of a big barrel. Now there's a chain of restaurants of the same name throughout the South.

"The name seemed appropriate because it's reflective of old-fashioned living and County people."

It's also reflective of the extroverted educator who first bought a guitar at the age of 36, then took some lessons and now helps entertain audiences throughout Wayne and Westland.

"I have a good time even if no one else does," laughed Preston, who also teams up with his wooden pal Henry for a ventriloquist act that keeps the younger children in stitches. "I love my job. Every year I say this is the best group of kids we've had in the group."

"Since the members change every year, it takes awhile to get our timing down," he added. "The kids will practice in the mornings and evenings at the start until things get settled.

"They all like rock music but I can't sing that," he joked. "You don't have to sing good to sing Country. And anyway, the kids love a crowd best of all."

An assistant principal at Adams for the past 11 years, Preston earned his bachelors degree at Bob Jones University and his masters at Eastern Michigan University. He and his wife, Joyce, a piano teacher, are the parents of three children.

Performers for the Crackerbarrel include Elizabeth Arthur, Gerri Nicosia, Edith Kurtz, Dan Booth, Mary Moore, Andrea Kurkowski, Kevin Radzwion, Delores Simonds, Pamela Johns, Mike Greuber, Laura Zarb, Joe Czarniowski and Sarah Okray. Among their upcoming performances will be shows at the

Wayne Tower Apartments (May 19) and a finale at the Washington Elementary School on June 9.

The latter show will mark the end of the Crackerbarrel locally for some time since Preston plans to move to Brazil next fall. He'll serve as high school principal for the American School of Brasilia while on a two-year leave of absence from Adams Junior High.

"We'll set up a Crackerbarrel group down there," Preston declared.

Lloyd Preston struts his guitar and leads his group, The Crackerbarrel, in their Country Western show for a very attentive audience of Westland senior citizens. This performance was one of 20 free concerts given by the Crackerbarrel each year under the direction of Preston, the assistant principal at Adams Junior High in Westland. The band features 13 eighth and ninth-grade students at Adams. Photo by ANP Chief Photographer Lothar Konietzko.

Jogging lowers blood pressure, heart rate

Jogging is one of the simplest and most effective ways to improve muscle tone and the ability to withstand stress through lowered blood pressure and heart rate.

"More than 30 million Americans have discovered this inexpensive way to shape up for summer," states Walter Zeiler, Member Life manager of the Automobile Club of Michigan.

Joggers are reaping health benefits ranging from weight loss and increased stamina to the peace of mind knowing they are making their bodies more efficient.

Most physical fitness experts agree jogging is a better all-around exercise than such static activities as push-ups or weight lifting.

"Many exercises involve conditioning only small muscle groups such as the arms," Zeiler explains. "Jogging involves many large muscles and the larger the muscles involved the more an exercise will do for the waistline, heart and blood vessels.

"The heart is a muscle and when it is exercised by moderate activity over long periods, it will operate more efficiently both at rest and under stress, using fewer beats to pump the same amount of blood."

Jogging requires minimal equipment.

A good pair of running shoes, loose-fitting clothing in summer—avoiding rubberized suits which only dehydrate the body — and a warm-up suit for cold weather will suffice.

There are health guidelines which should be followed by both beginning and veteran joggers.

Persons over 35 or with risk factors including high blood pressure and cholesterol levels, obesity, cigarette smoking or a family history of heart problems, should see a doctor first.

"Persons who may be physically unfit should take a stress test so an exercise program can be prescribed," Zeiler says. "Joggers under 35 with no known risk factors should have had a physical examination in the last two years."

Once set on a program, frequency, progression and intensity are the bywords to attaining good health.

For the average person, three days of jogging weekly is sufficient. This frequency schedule reduces the risk of knee, hip or ankle injuries, which increases with more frequent workouts.

Joggers should progress slowly, warming up with stretching exercises. A 10-minute cool-down period also is essential.

Beginners should start with brisk walks, then combine walking with jogging short distances and gradually lengthening the time spent jogging. A good rule is to exercise at least 12 minutes at first and work up to 30 or 60 minutes.

Joggers work toward increased conditioning of the heart, lungs and blood vessels through steady, rhythmic exercise, not by sprinting. If a person can't talk while jogging, he is probably going too fast.

The heart rate is the best guide to exercise intensity. To find the predicted target heart rate zone that improves efficiency of the heart, lungs and blood vessels, joggers should subtract their age from 220. First multiply by .6; then multiply by .8. The resulting figures are the approximate minimum and maximum heart rates for joggers.

Observant view of 'Atlantic City'

By J. T. YURKO
Special to Playtime

"Atlantic City," an I.C.C. Production released through Paramount Pictures. Directed by Louis Malle. Written by John Guare. Starring Burt Lancaster and Susan Sarandon. Rated 'R.'

The credits for "Atlantic City" list the movie as an International Cinema Corporation (I.C.C.) production. With a director from France, a screenwriter from the USA — and a producer from Canada, the group certainly qualifies for international status.

The irony is that it took an international group to make a story about a seashore resort in New Jersey. But Atlantic City is not just another sandy city. It has a history which mirrors America, reflecting the country's highs and lows with its own rise and fall. It is no wonder filmmakers would want to concentrate on such a city, but the real irony is that this international group has created such a remarkably observant and highly entertaining movie on a city that is as genuine a piece of America as one of the hot dogs sold along its Boardwalk.

Add to the international grouping of talent a few decidedly domestic names, such as the film's stars, Burt Lancaster and Susan Sarandon. (Another ironic note: Ms. Sarandon was actually born in New Jersey, but in the film she plays a girl from Saskatchewan, Canada.) These two are such talented performers that they take a fine script by John Guare and make his characters memorable.

Lancaster plays the role of 'Lou' — a two-bit gangster left over from Atlantic City's last gangster heyday. He now works for a penny-ante numbers racket, but mainly serves as boyfriend-bodyguard to Grace, played by Kate Reid. She is a faded beauty contestant who come to Atlantic City as part of a Betty Grable look-alike contest in the 40s.

Living in the apartment next to Lancaster is Susan Sarandon, a clam bar waitress who works at one of the new casinos springing up in the wake of legalized gambling.

But the city's rapid rejuvenation also brings a new croup of people, including her drug-dealing brother, and he in turn gets them all involved with some gangsters of the new, improved, decidedly 80s type.

Director Louis Malle likes to film stories about the people and places at the point of change. "Murmur of the Heart" (1971) shows a boy coming to grips with early adulthood, and Malle's last project depicted Brooke Shields coming of age in a time of transition — the end of the Victorian Age in a Louisiana bordello.

Atlantic City is now experiencing a change, and the film shows the problems inherent in any change — from those who simply will not change to those whose dreams far outstrip the realities of the improvements.

These are themes not limited to Atlantic City however, so perhaps only an international film group like I.C.C., with its unique perspective, could make that point and force those themes to coruscate across our conscience.

What's That Sound?

By STEVE O'LEARY

Weird, but above average background music

STARS ON
"Stars On Long Play"
(Atlantic)

Now this is really weird, ya' know what I mean? One album, for separate cuts, 50 songs. That's right, 50. The big five-oh.

If you've heard a Beatles medley on the radio lately, chances are it's these guys. The entire first side of this LP is — with the exception of their theme song, "Stars On 45" — made up entirely of Fab Four songs. Or snippets of songs really, as the longest is a 46-second "Day Tripper," while the briefest is an eight second "No-where Man." Like I said, weird.

Side two is even more eccentric, and comes complete with a 44-second version of "Sugar Sugar", a 14 second "Jimmy Mack," and an 18 second "Cathy's Clown." And who among you hasn't been sitting on the edge of your seat, just waiting for someone to come out with a seven second version of "Venus"?

Like I said, this is a strange record, but it sure is a lot of fun. I don't know if I'll be inclined to play it very often, but it's sure to be on the turntable at the next party I have. Background music to be sure, but it's better-than-average background music.

THE SWINGING MADISONS
(Select)

This five-song, twelve-inch E.P. has spent quite a bit of time on my turntable lately, so I guess it's about time I told you about it. The Swinging Madisons are one of the few groups in rock to use tongue-in-cheek humor to their advantage (Detroit's own Mutants are another), and believe me, they do it well.

Take the opening cut for instance...it's what I think is the ultimate version possible of Devo's "Hurdy Gurdy Man," sort of what the mellow yellow man would have sounded like had he not been such a wimp. And what person who's ever quivered at the TV commercial for Volare won't give a big guffaw to the Swinging Madisons' "Volare"?

And while "Guilty White Liberal" and "My Mediocre Dream" are certainly passable (meaning it's better than 95 percent of the junk to be released), it's the irresistible "Put Your Bra Back On" that shows the band at their best, both musically and lyrically.

"Put your bra back on
'cause I'll be needing some resistance from below
And from the moment you smiled
I felt the call of the wild
And I said yeah yeah yeah yeah, I just can't say no"

And pray tell, just how did this problem come about? Why, "when we let ourselves go ape," of course.

As their ad says, the Swinging Madisons make music for people whose feet have brains. And with popular rock in the state it's in now, a dose of intelligence is sorely needed. And The Swinging Madisons are just what the doctor ordered.

MR. AND MRS. KURT M. ULBICK

Florida honeymoon follows Ulbick-Marsh nuptial rite

The Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses was the setting March 14 for the ceremony which joined Melanie Annette Marsh and Kurt Mitchell Ulbick in holy matrimony.

The daughter of Gary and Diane Marsh of Highland, her five o'clock rite was conducted by her father before some 350 assembled guests.

The bridegroom, who resides in Fenton, is the son of Mitchell and Joan Ulbick of Belleville.

Given in marriage by her parents, Melanie appeared in a white dacron organza gown embellished with French Chantilly lace. A Queen Anne neckline outlined in crystal pleating matched the flounce which bordered the skirt and chapel train. The empire bodice and sleeves also featured the lace motif.

A modified Camelot headpiece secured her walking-length veil which was outlined with lace while a cascade bouquet of mixed silk blooms in cranberry and pink completed her bridal finery.

Mrs. George Peruski of Fenton was honor attendant with the trio of bridesmaids comprised of Shelly Ulbick of Belleville, sister of the bridegroom; Michelle Ostrom of Holly and Tracy Ulbick of Belleville, another sister.

Their cranberry frocks were designed with sleeveless bodices topped with sheer capes and toe-touching hemlines banded in ruffles. They carried arrangements of pink and cranberry flowers, all in silk.

Best man was Rande Buehler of Toledo, O. Groomsmen included Scott Ulbick of Belleville and Derek Marsh of Highland, brothers of the bridal pair, and Paul Farr of Texas.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Marsh donned a rose-colored floor-length gown to which she pinned her pink rose corsage. Mrs. Ulbick, the bridegroom's mother, selected a bluish-colored street-length frock with ruffles and lace accents. Her corsage was of yellow roses.

Following their wedding reception at the Fenton VFW, the newlyweds departed for a week-long Florida honeymoon before taking up residence in Fenton.

The bride is a graduate of Milford High School and her husband a graduate of Belleville High. He is now working in Brighton for Peaker Services.

The bridegroom's parents entertained at the rehearsal dinner held at the Holly Hotel in Holly.

Tyler School Girl Scouts share kite-flying contest with dads

Up, up and away — that's what 21 pairs of fathers and daughters were hoping their kites would do when Tyler School Girl Scouts held their first father-daughter kite flying contest April 25 at Tyler School.

All kites had to be handmade and flown by the individual teams. There were nine prizes awarded and only one per kite.

The judging, which proved to be the most difficult part of the afternoon, was done by Mrs. Norma Ziegler, Field

Director of Southern Wayne-Monroe Counties, and Mrs. Judith Fender, Troop Service Director of Elwell School.

Winners were Cheryl Luebke and her dad for the first kite (and only box design) in flight; Tracy Tolliver and her dad for the largest, 36 inches by 38 inches; Shannon Tarris and her dad, the smallest, 1 1/4 inches by 2 1/4 inches; Brandy Brugman and her dad for the kite with the longest tail, 48 feet, and Jennifer Given and her dad for the funniest.

Still other awards went to Rashelle Borre and Jenna Morgan and their dads for the most unique designs; to Patricia Little and her dad for the most colorful, and to Tammy Ashley and her dad for the best overall kite.

Mc Donald's of Van Buren Township donated coupons to all participants for free ice cream cones and the Scouts would like to thank them, the judges, leaders and assistants and all participants for making April 25 a most memorable afternoon.

Everyone had a good time and asked that the event be held again in 1982.

Dr. Meredith Concern for bedwetters

—One of a series—

New hope for bedwetters.

Bedwetting is a problem — a serious problem — that many parents approach incorrectly. They restrict liquids. They wake the child during the night.

"Meanwhile, family relationships often suffer because of the problems bedwetting causes. And, in many cases, the child may not outgrow it."

Bedwetting is rarely caused by allergies, diseases, infections or emotional problems. Such problems, after all, cannot occur only at night as with bedwetting.

But bedwetting is correctable. Correctable in the home by parents who learn what they are dealing with and follow recommended corrective procedures.

A fine booklet on the subject is available free of charge to readers of this column from

"Bedwetting is correctable..."

Enuresis Family Center, and is strongly recommended to those affected by the problem. Send your request to E.F.C., 23023 Orchard Lake Road (Bldg. F), Farmington, Michigan 48024.

Bedwetting called serious and harmful.

Bedwetting can often become a serious health problem. It confronts 17 million children and adults in the United States alone.

According to Dr. Joseph G. Molner, M.D., "The correction of bedwetting is an important mental health aid. It is very harmful to the child, distressing to parents and can lead to serious complications later in life."

Enuresis specialist Dr. Dennis L. Hunter agrees with Dr. Molner. He explained that the child is actually in a very deep sleep when bedwetting occurs. A parent's failure to bed-train the child is as serious as lack of toilet-training. The emotional damage that can accompany "waiting it out" makes such advice a risky gamble.

'Ghost riders'

Bicycle program set for schools

Unless you've been living on a desert island, you've noticed a lot of bicycles are being ridden around Romulus and Huron Township.

As the bicycle boom has burgeoned bringing inspiration and joy to the hearts of its riders, it has also been raising problems for law enforcement.

Last year there were many reported bicycle collisions with motor vehicles. It is estimated that there were many more collisions with fixed objects and pedestrians that were not reported. Most accidents were in the 5 to 14 year old age group.

With bike sales up 154% over 1970 and bicyclists, apparently because of their ignorance of basic traffic laws, are being injured at a rate nearly double that during 1971, Wayne County Sheriff's Dept. has decided to do something about educating young riders on laws and rules of the road.

Police officer visits and lectures are being scheduled for all local elementary schools. Cooperating with the police department and the Romulus and Huron School Districts, Brownstown Township Jaycettes have presented Deputy Ed Rasmussen with bicycle safety educational materials to help initiate the program.

Deputy Ed Rasmussen said, "Traffic safety education should begin when a person gets his first set of wheels, for the youthful bike rider of today will become the young car driver of tomorrow. Habits and attitudes which are formed now will eventually determine the manner in which an automobile will be handled."

"It is fairly certain that our young people will become better and safer drivers if they learn to follow the Bicycle Rules of the Road!"

The theme "Ghost Riders" was chosen for the reason called, "mental set".....a bicyclist just doesn't register in the automobile driver's brain! To be a "Ghost Rider" you ride as if you were invisible and never assume a driver of a car has seen you! Some 85% of the accidents were found to be caused by the bicyclist thinking the motorist was aware of his presence but, regrettably, this was not so.

The bike rider, in most cases (4 out of 5) was in the wrong for the following reasons: 1. Riding on the wrong side of the roadway. 2. Unsafe movement. 3. Right-of-way violation, Rasmussen said.

The program, extensively planned, will include a lecture to students by a deputy, instruction in the classroom by the teacher and the entire program culminates with a bicycle rodeo.

The rodeo includes an obstacle course for riders to test their skill, checking bikes for safe operation and bicycle licensing.

Bicycle thefts are also escalating the problem. "It's no longer a question of a bicycle being stolen....it's only a question of when," Dep. Rasmussen said.

About 140 Centennial Educational Park students in the Plymouth-Canton schools are learning BASIC computer language thanks to contributions made to buy a new micro-computer.

The new Apple 11 was put in Ron Carlson's math classroom by donations from: Kiwanis of Plymouth, Plymouth Federal Community Credit Union, Mrs. Standwood, Hugh Jarvis Gifts, and George O'Diome Associates.

"The students really enjoy working on the computer," said Carlson. "More important," he added, "they're learning while they are working with it. They are certainly appreciative of the contributions which made it possible."

Wayne wins state forensics title

The forensics department of Wayne Memorial High School, under the direction of Adrienne Klemme has done it again.

Marybeth Kinnell walked away with a State Championship with her first place win in the Serious Interpretation Category of the National Forensics League. This is the second time Miss Kinnell has won a State Championship in forensics, having done so in her first year at WMHS in the 9-10 division.

Anita New, also of Wayne Memorials consistently excellent forensics team brought home a 1st place win in the recent National Forensics League competition at Marshall Mich. on April 25 for our district.

These wins entitle the two seniors to compete for the National title in competition in Salt Lake City Utah on June 15. But the financially strapped Wayne-Westland school district is unable to provide the approximately $1500 it will take to send the young women and coach Klemme to Utah.

The forensics dept. plans to appeal to the business community and to hold fund raising events in an effort to collect the money in time.

Miss Kinnell and Miss New have been friends and competitors since they were in Ben Franklin junior high drama productions together. They have both been in plays at Wayne Memorial, have competed in forensics for three years, and together with Dawn Cooper directed the schools spring drama presentation last year.

Mrs. Klemmes excellent direction has inspired Wayne Memorials talented student to win State Championships in seven of the last eight years and 20 or more 1st, 2nd, & 3rd place wins on the state level. Many of these students have gone to be valuable contributors to Eastern Mich. U. and other colleges and Universities Forensics teams.

Belleville catching baseball title fever

Tigers trip Trenton for No. 5

Although rains and inclement weather managed to wipe out Tuesday's baseball and softball schedules, it didn't hamper this lonely jogger's enthusiasm for the road.

Belleville's amazing Tigers continued their unfamiliar onslaught on the Suburban 8 Conference baseball championship Monday night by handing previously unbeaten Trenton their first loss of the season 8-5.

Coach Tom Fielder's ball club stretched its Sub-8 victory string to five and, by disposing of the Trojans, remains the only team in the conference with a perfect record.

The first year coach however warns that "it's too early and much lies ahead of us to be thinking or catching pennant fever."

"There's a long way to go," Fielder said, "and, if during the first round other teams didn't know what to expect from us, they now do. We're now going to be the ones on the hot seats."

A five-run fifth and Larry Petrowski relief pitching bailed the Tigers out against an error-prone Trenton Monday night. The Trojans committed four costly ones to let the Tigers slip from their mitts.

Petrowski came on to relieve starter Sam Villa in the fourth after the junior hurler had given up five runs, three of which were earned. Larry faced a bases-loaded, two-out situation when he inherited the mound, and got Bob Dorin to ground out to end the inning.

Belleville came back and put five runs on the board in the fifth to rout Trenton starter Steve Bondu.

In that fifth Keith and Don Adkins got aboard on a single and walk, respectively, then Bondu served up a single to Jim Daniels to load the bases. Greg Brinkerhoff laced a single to give the Tigers a 5-4 lead and a two-out sacrifice fly by Rob Lintner made it a 6-4 ball game.

Dave LeBlanc's grounder to shortstop went by for an error, producing yet another run and when the centerfielder overran the ball, the Tigers put their final run on board.

Trenton took a 1-0 lead in the bottom of the first, however, Belleville managed to erase it in the third when Petrowski was safe on an error, moved to second when Keith Adkins singled and to third when Don Adkins walked.

Jim Daniels' groundout scored Petrowski and Brinkerhoff's sacrifice accounted for the second run. Kelvin Roberts then laced a single to give the

Taylor wins Wayne track invitational

If there were any doubts who has the best high school track and field team in the area this year Taylor Center lifted them on Saturday.

Taylor invaded Wayne and stole four golds and the invitational crown, while encountering only minor resistance from Westland John Glenn and defending champ, Belleville.

Westland John Glenn finished second with 70 points, ahead of host, Wayne, which garnered 61 points and fourth-place finishing Belleville (54).

Other team finishes included: Fordson (51), Adrian (45), Dearborn Heights Robichaud (37), Garden City East (17), Trenton (7 1/2), Taylor Kennedy (7), Taylor Truman (6), and Garden City West (5 1/2).

Tigers a 3-1 edge that lasted until the bottom of the inning when Trenton tilted the scoreboard three times in their favor.

Petrowski, a lefthanded junior, managed to tame an always tough Plymouth Salem last week as he fired a four-hitter against the Rocks to chalk up this third win of the conference and his fourth victory over-all.

Salem struck first. The Rocks scored in the top of the third. But Belleville came back and tied it in the bottom of the fourth on a two-out single by Petrowski, a single by Jeff Morris and Dave LeBlanc's hit.

The Tigers scored what proved to be the winning run off of Culver in the fifth as Darren Weise slammed a one-out double, moved to third on Daniels' base hit and singled on a double by Brinkerhoff.

Petrowski fanned four and didn't walk any while Culver chalked up a pair of whiffs and walked one.

Westland John Glenn, however, cooled the Tigers on Saturday, sweeping a pair of nonleaguers, 10-3 and 15-10. Mike Taig, who worked the first four

Glenn track coach 'is wising up...'

Unfortunately for North Farmington and the rest of the Northwest Suburban Conference track & field teams, Bruce Calhoun is getting wiser with each meet.

Calhoun, who had made cameo appearances as coach while serving on Barry Basil's staff at Westland John Glenn, is in his first year as head-track coach.

"You know I'm beginning to put together the relay teams much better, and placing people in the right events with more authority," said the rookie coach after his Rockets destroyed defending champ, North Farmington, 92-39.

"Basil taught me a lot. Now I have to put that knowledge to use," Calhoun continued. "It took me some time, but I feel I have the confidence now."

Football follies in May

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

As head football tactician at Wayne Memorial High School Floyd Carter knows how to camouflage his moves and motives. And, on the pretense of "just-dropped-by-to-say 'hello'", Carter entered these not so sacred domains the other day.

Grinning and nodding amiably, Carter quickly revealed his true mission: "We're putting on a 'Football Follies Variety Show' and immediately produced an impressive poster that contained all the 5 'Ws'—or is it four? "Wonder if you can give us some publicity," Carter continued, "it's to help raise funds for our football program. (And I always figured that the best P.R. man in these parts was John Glenn's Chuck Gordon.)"

But how could you refuse such an Abba Eban character as Carter. After all, Carter, and coaches like him, help pay my income taxes and mortgage, don't they?

Reminding me that he, too, will perform—and some say Carter is really good—the follies are scheduled for 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, May 13 at the Wayne Memorial High School Auditorium. Tickets are $1 (presale) and $1.50 (at the door). Don't be surprised if Carter and his company come up with a lot of surprises for this one.

Speaking of public relations, "Bud" Stenton has that dubious distinction and honor to help promote swimming in Romulus. There is no indoor swimming pool in that city. Those of us who know the scene know that the high school south of us never has had a varsity swim team.

Stenton's dream is to see that one day kids in the city will be able to compete on all levels from age group to prep varsity competition.

In the meantime, young swimmers are signing up with the Taylor Pool Sharks, a group that Stenton promotes and is president. The sharks will be holding a meeting on Thursday (May 7) at 7:30 p.m. in the Democratic Club, on Wick Road, east of Telegraph.

"We're looking for Romulus youngsters who know how to swim, kids between the ages of 5 to 18 for our program," Stenton announced. "Because of our limited resources, we don't have time to train those who don't know how to swim, so the one stipulation is that the youngsters must have some swimming ability."

If you're interested, contact Stenton at 941-1762.

And, as if he didn't have enough to do, Belleville's head track and field cross country coach Dave Medley has yet another task to perform. He was recently elected as representative to the Michigan Coaches Association 16th district which includes Regions I and II. Those regions cover Detroit and most of Wayne County.

Although it is not affiliated with the Michigan High School Athletic Association, the MCA's purpose is to help promote and support high school athletics and athletes in the state.

Here are some local sports people in the news:

Pretty Claudette Cline, who hails from Romulus, looks like she'll rewrite the track record book at Western Michigan University before she brings the curtains down on her collegiate career.

Western Michigan placed fourth at the invitational, piling up 100 points. Miss Cline, a freshman, turned in an excellent performance for the Broncos at the Central Michigan Invitational.

The Romulus High graduate captured a fifth place in the 400-meter dash with a 59.4, then ran one leg of the 1,600 meter that placed third with a 4:04.3 effort. The performance incidentally was the Broncos' best this season.

Also in the news is Dan Beaver, a senior at Michigan School for the Deaf in Flint.

Beaver was among the 90 athletes recently honored at a luncheon organized by the school. Dan earned a varsity basketball letter. He was the team captain. Dan's the son of Mr. Norman Beaver of Wayne.

CHIROPRACTIC GETS RESULTS

ARTHRITIS PAIN RELIEVED

IAN A. GRASSAM, D.C.

The Natural Way To Good Health

Like every Doctor of Chiropractic, Dr. Ian Grassam has a commitment to the health care of the community.

"You must let people know that you care about them as people and that you have their best health interests at heart," says Dr. Grassam. "You must answer all of their questions with understanding and not with a lot of sophisticated language."

Dr. Grassam is always ready to explain health problems in simple, down-to-earth terms. He'll inform you, not confuse you.

And he'll fully explain the chiropractic principle which details how the brain generates powerful life-giving energy and sends it down the spinal cord, which is housed by the spinal column. The energy then is sent out the spinal nerves to all parts of the body. These life-giving nerve impulses supply the energy required by the body to carry on its normal functional activities.

The body functions properly only if the nerve channels are free and unobstructed. Nerve interference is caused when one or more of the 24 moveable, vertebrae is thrown out of its normal alignment.

This misalignment, known as a subluxation, can be caused by a sudden jar or jerk. Even nervous tension can twist and contort the spine, causing an interrupted flow of nerve energy.

The Grassam Chiropractic Life Center is a multi-faceted complex designed to meet the varied health needs of today.

Progressive diagnostic tools and x-ray equipment are an important part of the facilities provided for the thorough examination of each patient. Up-to-date adjusting rooms and equipment enable Dr. Grassam to do the most for each patient.

For the victim of acute injuries or illness, the day care facility is always available. The waiting area also serves as a resource center where patients share their progress and take advantage of the materials available to learn about chiropractic and natural health care.

KEEP THAT HEALTHY HAPPY FEELING

My husband and I both suffered from sinus trouble and arthritis which were disrupting our lives. In addition my husband has a hiatal hernia that has caused him gas pains and nervous tension that kept him awake at night.

A friend of ours, who also had a painful arthritic problem, told us how much better she felt after a few chiropractic adjustments from Dr. Grassam, so we tried chiropractic too.

And are we happy we did! After three adjustments we both felt much better. I found that after five years of constant pain I could sit up or sleep soundly at night. All this with no pain! And our sinuses are much better. My husband has very few problems with gas and we're both feeling much better generally.

I definitely recommend chiropractic to others. I've told most of our friends how much better we feel after coming to see Dr. Grassam.

Arthritis, Chiropractic And You!

Often the arthritic patient has a poorly functioning nervous system, causing direct or indirect spinal problems. The joints of the body need a strong, normal nerve supply to function properly. When arthritis involves the spinal column or the nervous system, chiropractic helps. Chiropractic is a natural healing science which maintains and restores good health by keeping nerve impulses flowing freely.

How does Chiropractic work? Electrical change along a nerve membrane is called a nerve impulse. Nerve impulses transmitted along the nerve membranes generate body reactions that control proper body function.

Communication between the brain and the body is transmitted through the spinal cord and then into the individual nerve endings. The spine is composed of 24 bones, which when misaligned, can interfere with the normal flow of power through the body.

Chiropractors are specialists in locating and correcting the abnormal bone misalignment, which eventually affect the body's functions. These are factors that are considered in the case of arthritis.

See your chiropractor when arthritis attacks. Spinal adjustments will have you feeling better soon.

innings, got credit for the victory with some relief help from Mike Dest, while Cliff Cicotte was charged with the loss. Glenn's Tim Filary collected three hits in four trips to the plate. Mike Panker scatter 10 Belleville hits to pick up the decision in the second game as the Westlanders pounded out eight hits against three Tiger hurlers—Kelvin Roberts, Harper and Daniels. Roberts took the loss.

Glenn cashed in 17 walks in the second game.

In the meantime, Cherry Hill played its finest game of the season to upset title-dreamer Melvindale 7-6 for its initial victory in three starts in the Tri-River Conference. Reliever John Teschke, who pitched the last 4½ innings, was credited with the win. Melvindale got to Cherry Hill starter Tom Minchno for three runs in the second inning and put three runs on the board in the third after the Spartans had scored all seven of their runs in the first two frames.

Loser Jim Kinnes had his problems and was charged with all seven runs as he failed to get anyone out in the second inning. He gave up a leadoff single to Mike Johnson in the opening frame, then, after Johnson had stolen second, Ron Peterson drove him home with a double.

Peterson scored when Michno laced a single and Sam Taylor was awarded first base when he was struck by a wild pitch. Andy Lapensee's triple chased home the two base runners.

Cherry Hill made good use of a pair of walks to Steve Allard and Johnson in the second inning who scored after Tom Pietruszka's bunt single loaded the bases and Peterson drilled a two-run single.

Michno's sacrifice fly scored what proved to be the winning run. "I felt this was our best game of the season," said Cherry Hill coach Ken Mientkiewicz. "We took advantage of all of our scoring opportunities."

However, Southgate humbled the Spartans 11-4 as winning pitcher Dan Beck scattered 14 hits, struck out three and walked none for the win. Mientkiewicz yanked loser Sam Taylor in the third after the Sabers had scored eight runs.

Cherry Hill committed six errors early in the ballgame to help its own demise.

Spartan bats weren't silent however as they produced 14 hits. Michno collected a triple, double and had three RBIs in a four-for-four day while Peterson latched on to three hits and both Lapensee and Pietruszka each had two hits in four trips to the plate.

Romulus exploded for nine runs in the first inning and went on to bury Oak Park as junior Todd Wallace fired a one-hitter, walked two and missed a no-hitter when Bob Franklin sliced a single to lead off the fifth. Wallace had five strikeouts and walked two.

The Eagles battled around in that wild first as Dave McBride, who had three hits for the game, walked, moved to second on Tom Vernatt's base hit. Wallace then walked to load the bases and Rich Hoth's grounder was booted, scoring the first run.

Marty Knight then hammered a two-run double and the Eagles made it 5-0 on Rob Whaling's base hit. Mack Sullivan hit into a sacrifice bunt and Mike Smith sliced a run-scoring single, then stole second and moved up on a passed ball. Mark Schick walked, bringing up McBride for the second time. He singled. Wallace doubled in two more runs and Hoth's single gave the Eagles their final two.

Romulus allowed Taylor Truman to slip away 7-2 as the Eagles flourished in the third which helped the downriver club score five crucial runs.

The Eagles scored in the top of the first on a double by Wallace and back-to-back singles by Hoth and Knight, however, Truman tied it up in the same inning.

Romulus again took the lead, 2-1, in the third as Wallace, who had three singles and a double for the day, belted his second hit. He advanced on Hoth's base hit and eventually scored on a ground-out, and fielder's choice.

Knight, a righthander, failed to receive the defensive support from his mate as his record dipped to 2-2.

"It seemed as if we were the victims of one bad inning (against Taylor) and the recipients of one good inning (Oak Park) this week," said Romulus coach Dennis Stoh.

The Eagles entered the week with an over-all 4-6 record.

Hampered by inclement weather and rain, high school track & field team members continue to shine, and, to help lift those performances the Associated Newspapers will provide a weekly list of the top results in the ANP area.

Coaches are urged to contact Wayne Memorial head coach Ernie Righetti if they have a performance that should be listed. Coach Righetti may be reached after 6 p.m. at his home (729-6564).

Table with track and field results: 440-YARD DASH, 320 - LONG HURDLES, 100-YARD DASH, MILE RUN, 880-YARD RUN, 220-YARD DASH, 880-YARD RELAY, 2-MILE RUN, 440-YARD RELAY. Lists names and times for various events.

burn candlelight well into the night for Thursday's encounter with veteran Coach Bob Holmes and Livonia Franklin. Although Franklin (1-2) has gotten off to one of its worst starts, no one underestimates the Patriots.

"It should be a good meet," Calhoun says, "because they have a lot of excellent distance runners just as we do. I think the key to the meet will be who takes the sprints and the sprint-relayed events."

Calhoun feels that his Rockets do have an edge on their arch rivals in the field events.

Claiming 13 out of a possible 16 events, including all three relays, the predicted showdown between the two Northwest Suburban Conference adversaries didn't materialize as the Westlanders coasted to their third successful league victory.

The Westlanders also finished second at the Wayne Invitational on Saturday, picking up a gold medal for their performances in the shot put, discus and the 6,400-meter relays.

Bob Blevins, Dale Boone and James Landis set a Glenn record in securing the gold in the shot with a combined effort of 144 feet, 2½ inches; Gary Grabowski, Boone and Landis piled up 388 feet, 1¾ inches to finish first in the discus, while Ray Macicka, Karl Steffes, Santon Campbell and Pete Stephens turned the best time for the 6,400 meter relay, (18:28.3).

Meet results: Westland John Glenn 92, North Farmington 39

Table with meet results: SHOT PUT, DISCUS, LONG JUMP, HIGH JUMP, POLE VAULT, HIGH HURDLES, 100-METER DASH, 880-YARD RELAY, 1,600-METER RUN, 440-METER RELAY, 400-METER RUN, 300-METER LOW HURDLES, 800-METER RUN, 200-METER RUN, 3,200-METER RUN, 1,000-METER RELAY, MILE RUN, 440-YARD RELAY, 220-YARD DASH, 2-MILE RUN, 880-YARD RELAY, MILE RELAY. Franklin tunes up for Glenn with win

After two frustrating dual meet conference losses, Livonia Franklin stopped Redford Union 82-50 last Thursday for its inaugural Northwest Suburban Conference track & field victory of the 1981 campaign.

Gratified over the initial win, Franklin head coach Bob Holmes says his team will have a real tough assignment this week when it takes on unbeaten Westland John Glenn.

"They've now won three in a row," Holmes noted, "and I feel we're going to have to come up with a really top-notch over-all performance just to be in the meet with them."

"If we can upset them in the relays," Holmes continued, "we could make this a very interesting meet. However, right now, on paper they definitely have the edge."

Franklin will host Coach Bruce Calhoun's Rockets Thursday afternoon with the field events scheduled to get under way at 3:30 p.m.

Franklin's Mike Gabel provided the spark that ignited the Patriots past R.U. on a blustery afternoon more suited for ice skating than running. Gabel turned in a 10.9 to win the 100-yard dash, came back for a 24.6 for a victory in the 220, and also figured in the Patriots' win in the 440 relay.

Table with meet results: Livonia Franklin 82, Redford Union 50. Lists names and times for SHOT PUT, DISCUS, HIGH JUMP, LONG JUMP, POLE VAULT, HIGH HURDLES, 100-YARD DASH, 880-YARD RELAY, MILE RUN, 440-YARD RELAY, 220-YARD DASH, 2-MILE RUN, 880-YARD RELAY, MILE RELAY.

Tigers tame Trenton

Belleville padded its Suburban 8 Conference track and field record at the expense of Trenton as the Tigers swept 12 of 16 first places to claim a 92-40 victory over the Trojans.

Coach Dave Medley's runners have won two of its three league outings this year, suffering its lone setback at the hands of defending champ, Dearborn.

Table with meet results: Belleville 92, Trenton 40. Lists names and times for SHOT PUT, DISCUS, LONG JUMP, HIGH JUMP, POLE VAULT, HIGH HURDLES, 100-YARD DASH, 880-YARD RELAY, MILE RUN, 440-YARD RELAY, 220-YARD DASH, 2-MILE RUN, 880-YARD RELAY, MILE RELAY.

'Fight the fine fight of the faith'

Witnesses attend 2-day assembly

Some 125 Jehovah's Witnesses from the Belleville area are back home after attending a two-day religious assembly in Detroit, May 2, 3.

The assembly was sponsored by the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York, and was under the supervision of Harry A. Fetzik, District Supervisor and traveling minister of Jehovah's Witnesses.

All who attended the two-day meeting learned more about the Bible and were specifically helped to be made keenly aware of what it means for Christians today to "fight the fine fight of the faith", the theme of the meeting and something the Apostle Paul wrote about to his friend and fellow Christian, Timothy. (1 Timothy 6:12)

Demonstrations, Bible lectures, and shared experiences throughout the program focused time and again on Christian faith in today's world.

In fact, the main Bible discourse on Sunday, to which the public was invited, was entitled "Facing the Future with Faith and Courage." Some 1311 were present to hear Harry Fetzik speak about the Bible's relationship to the future and faith and courage.

Fetzik stated that: "The future looks grim for most people of the world, in view of current problems. The many nuclear weapons, energy crisis and spreading famine conditions are among the fearful conditions we cannot ignore. Still, an opposite attitude is observed among true Christians in the light of Jesus' words recorded at Luke 21:28, to 'lift your heads up, because your deliverance is getting near'."

"They would do that", Fetzik said, "because their faith is real. Through the study of the Bible, Jehovah's Witnesses know that Jehovah is the God of truth and that he fulfills his promises.

Knowing that God's foretold kingdom is near and that it will bring relief from pressures and opposition in the world, strengthens true Christians to face the future with confidence."

Fetzik then drew attention to personal problems and tragedies which can be overcome with faith and courage, pointing out that: "It's relying on Jehovah God when we are faced with difficult circumstances that gives one courage."

Fetzik in conclusion exhorted the audience to share in talking about their Christian hope for the future with others. Individuals were personally admonished to study the Bible, learn about Jehovah God, Jesus and the Kingdom hope which will enable them to face the future with faith and courage.

Encouraged, enlightened and happy to be back home, the Belleville delegates have resumed their normal schedule of meeting activities at the group's Belleville Kingdom Hall, located on 145 South Edgemont.

Martins to sing at Canton Calvary

Canton Calvary Assembly of God, 7933 Sheldon Rd., has planned a special treat for Mother's Day by inviting the Martin Family Gospel Singers to come and share their music ministry on Sunday, May 10 at 6:30 P.M.

"Mothers Day is the last day of National Family Week," says Rev. M. Gregory Gentry, pastor of Calvary A/G, "and we felt that it would be most appropriate to conclude that week with an exciting family oriented ministry like this."

The Martin Family Singers are all brothers and sisters, children of Rev. & Mrs. R.A. Martin. They began singing in the early 1950's and have been on the go in this ministry ever since.

Throughout the years they have sung in churches, schools, auditoriums, camps and concerts throughout the Eastern United States.

Also, they have sung on radio for many years and have had frequent appearances on television in Detroit as well as on nationally syndicated programs.

The Martin Family also has four long play albums under the "Skylite" label in Nashville, Tenn. to their recording credit.

Many of their songs have been written by members of the family, with two more of them recently recorded by the nationally known Blackwood Brothers.

The public is invited to attend this special celebration of the impact of the gospel on the American family.

With a prayer in their hearts, the Martins

By Presidential proclamation

May 7th is designated as day of Prayer in U.S.A

On Thursday, May 7, Americans across the land are being asked to unite their prayers to seek God's guidance for our land and leaders, following a proclamation by President Ronald Reagan designating May 7 as America's National Day of Prayer.

And Religious Heritage of America (RHA), a 31-year-old non-profit organization, has adopted the mission of urging the American people to celebrate National Day of Prayer.

RHA is an interfaith, citizen movement dedicated to the preservation and perpetuation of American Judeo-Christian heritage. It is asking churches across the United States to ring their bells at 12 noon May 7, calling on people wherever they are to stop and pray.

The President's proclamation marked the 30th observance of the National Day of Prayer. Authorized by public law in 1951, President Harry S. Truman proclaimed the first observance on July 4, 1952.

The law directs that "the President shall set aside and proclaim a suitable day each year, other than a Sunday, as a National Day of Prayer, on which the people of the United States may turn to God in prayer and meditation at churches, in groups and as individuals."

So, if you hear the church bells toll next Thursday, pause and say a prayer, it's a part of your country's religious heritage.

Van Buren offers clinic

It's not too late to sign up and 'Stop Smoking'

You love to eat, but you don't like being overweight. You diet for weeks, come close to your ideal weight, or maybe even reach your goal only to go back to your old eating habits.

But you try to quit only to feel deprived when you sit down with your morning coffee.

Van Buren Parks and Recreation is offering area residents an opportunity to kick both bad habits painlessly and permanently with hypnosis. Clinical Hypnotist Sue Weingarden from Self Psych, Inc., will conduct a $30 stop smoking clinic on Wednesday, May 13 at 7:00 p.m. The $25 weight control clinic will be at 9:00 p.m. the same evening.

Both clinics will be held at the Van Buren Township Hall. To register, call 699-2001.

Weingarden explains that if overeaters and smokers can change their attitudes toward food and cigarettes, they can lose weight and become non-smokers. She uses hypnosis to help people change their emotional attitudes that prevent them from accomplishing the changes they want.

"The conflict between a smoker's intelligence and emotions make quitting by repression difficult," Weingarden says of those who have tried unsuccessfully to kick the habit. "A person's intelligence wants to quit smoking, but their emotions still need the gratification smoking gives them. Hypnosis helps a person become a non-smoker, rather than give up something he still wants to do."

The same holds for the overeaters. "Dieters usually take off weight just to put it back on again," Weingarden says. "That's because they haven't reprogrammed their minds to enjoy nutritious foods and proper eating habits. The key to losing weight is making a life change, not a temporary body change," she says.

SUE WEINGARDEN

During both clinics, participants will relax during three hypnotic inductions while Weingarden gives suggestions to their subconscious minds. Literature and cassette tapes will be provided for home reinforcement of the suggestions.

Weingarden holds a bachelor's degree in education and a Master's in higher education. She is certified by the Ethical Hypnosis Training Center, in South Orange New Jersey, and has been trained by James H. Hoke, hypnotist and president of Self Psych, Inc.

For St. Jude's Hospital

'Wheels of Life' seeks sponsors

Riders for the Saturday May 16 St. Jude Children's Research Hospital Wheels for Life Bike-a-thon are urging Van Buren, Belleville, and area residents to back their efforts by pledging a contribution for each mile they ride.

"The money our riders earn will help continue St. Jude's life-saving study of childhood cancer that has become so important to children all over the world," said Bike-a-thon chairman Ted Clayton.

"We'll be showing that we care about children by helping this cause," Ted said. "Please support your rider with a generous pledge, and then help them get the funds to us as soon as the ride is over."

"Each rider will be given a lap card when they register at Belleville High School on May 16," Clayton said. "Every time they ride through the check point, we'll initial the card. At the end of the ride, we'll check it and sign it to show that the rider earned what the sponsor pledged." Riders will then return to the sponsors to collect the pledge.

"We'll also be giving them a hospital bracelet saying 'I'm riding for Terry' to wear during the ride. I'm sure most of them will still be wearing them while they make their collections." Terry is a St. Jude patient who represents all victims of the illnesses under study at St. Jude Children's Research Hospital.

The ride starts at Belleville High School at 12:00 noon and riders will follow the simple course set up there.

"If you have not been asked to sponsor a rider, please call 482-6872 and we'll get one to call you," Ted said. Riders can still obtain sponsor/registration forms at local stores and schools.

Cougars don't have stripes, but the one at Belleville South Junior High School does. When the school received a "Cougar" from a local car dealer, the school officials quickly informed him that the school's nickname was "Tigers". No problems said the South Students and they immediately got out their brushes and truned the Cougar into a Tiger. See what a few stripes can do to enhance an animal?

Census Bureau to continue area job survey

Representatives of the U.S. Bureau of the Census will be contacting area households the week of May 11 as part of a special survey aimed at improving national employment estimates. Robert G. McWilliam, Director of the Bureau's Regional Office in Detroit, announced today.

Interviews will continue to be conducted during the next 17 months during the weeks that include the 12th and 26th calendar days of each month.

Nationally, about 3,000 households throughout the U.S. are contacted each month. The survey was started in May, 1978; the results will be used to develop more complete and accurate estimates of employment and unemployment.

Interviewers will ask questions about employment, occupation, and related information such as age, sex, and marital status.

The survey is authorized by law under Title 13, U.S. Code. All information provided to interviewers will be held strictly confidential.

Individuals in any household cannot be identified, since the data are used only to prepare statistical summaries.

Senate Majority Leader William Faust of Westland (center) received an honorary doctor of laws degree Saturday (May 2) at Northern Michigan University's Spring Commencement in Marquette. Assisting are Dr. Elmer Schacht (left), Dean of the School of Education, and Dr. Robert Hanson, Dean of the School of Business. Faust also delivered the address to 761 graduates. Faust has represented the 13th Senatorial District since 1966, and is a former Wayne County newspaper publisher. (NMU photo)

WHEREAS: Act No. 198 of the Public Acts of 1974 is designed to provide a stimulus in the form of significant tax incentives to industry to renovate and/or expand aging plants and to build new plants in Michigan, and

WHEREAS: Under the provisions of the Act, a local governmental unit in which the total property tax is at least thirty (30) mills may establish property tax incentives to attract new plants to the area; and

WHEREAS: Said Act provides that a firm may apply for and be issued an Industrial Facilities Exemption Certificate which entitles the facility to exemption from ad valorem real and personal property taxes for a period of twelve (12) years. In lieu of the property tax, the firm will pay a specific tax known as the Industrial Facility Tax. WHEREAS: Said Act provides that seventy-five (75%) percent of the owners of property to be affected by any proposed industrial development district may apply to the local governmental unit for the establishment of an industrial district; and

WHEREAS: Federal-Mogul Corporation did on April 7, 1981, submit a request to the City of Romulus to establish an industrial development district, its description as follows:

That part of the Northwest 1/4 of Section 12, T.3.S., R.9.E., described as beginning at a point on the East and West 1/4 line of said Section distant South 89 degrees 26 minutes East 660 feet from the West 1/4 corner of Section 12 and proceeding thence North 515.60 feet thence South 89 degrees 26 minutes East 659.12 feet thence South 0 degrees 04 minutes 3 seconds West 515.60 feet to the East and West 1/4 line of Section 12; thence North 89 degrees 26 minutes West along said line 195.90 feet thence North 285 feet thence North 89 degrees 26 minutes West 132 feet thence South 285 feet to the East and West 1/4 line of Section 12; thence North 89 degrees 26 minutes West along said line 330 feet to the point of beginning.

WHEREAS: The Federal-Mogul Corporation, represents more than seventy-five (75%) percent of the property owners to be included in the aforementioned district, as required by the provisions of Public Act 198, and

WHEREAS: The establishment of the requested industrial development district would go far to encourage the Federal-Mogul Corporation to continue with additional projects on this site resulting in additional jobs for the citizens of the City of Romulus, as well as, a substantial increase to the City's tax base.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED: That the City Council of the City of Romulus hold a public hearing on April 28, 1981, at 7:30 o'clock p.m., in the Romulus City Council Chamber, 11111 Wayne Rd., Romulus, Michigan, to take testimony from any and all parties having objections to the establishment of the requested industrial development district and to take testimony from any and all parties having reason to support the establishment of the requested industrial development district.

WHEREAS: At the Regular Meeting of the Romulus City Council held April 7, 1981, City Council took testimony from Administrative Staff and concerned residents, living within proximity of 6270 Hunt Street; and based on the criteria presented, specifically the following:

- The home sits on a 60 foot lot, occupying 89% of the total lot area, approximately twenty-five (25) feet from the center line of the street and backing to the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad precluding adequate site recreational space, developing a violation of the act which cannot be corrected and is likely to result in damage to residents (of A.F.C. Facility), and a violation which is likely to retard or prevent progress in resident habilitation.
- The proposed facility is located approximately three hundred (300) feet from the Trouton Drain, a drain which has been determined to be infested with pollutants, determined to be cancer producing, an imminent health hazard to all surrounding residents. A situation which results in a violation of the act likely to result in damage to residents (of A.F.C. Facility), a violation that cannot be immediately corrected and will be continuing, which is likely to retard and/or prevent progress in resident habilitation.

WHEREAS: The Legislative and Administrative Officials of the City of Romulus firmly believe in the concept of "equality for all" to include those handicapped individuals less fortunate than ourselves and does, in all cases, carry out the administration of said city on that belief; realizing that same is an inherent part of the responsibilities entrusted to them, as officials of the City of Romulus, by the citizens of the City of Romulus; and

WHEREAS: In addition to the aforementioned responsibility, the Legislative and Administrative Officials of the City of Romulus have been charged the responsibility to provide for and protect the health, safety and welfare of the citizens of Romulus and being that the former responsibility is the core, and the latter an extension thereof, the two could not logically be separated; and

WHEREAS: In any instance where the core or any of its extensions are jeopardized, or in instances where the probability of same exists, the Administrative and Legislative Officials of the City of Romulus are obligated to tenaciously seek means to eliminate said jeopardy, or prevent its creation, whichever is required; and

WHEREAS: The Administrative and Legislative Officials of the City of Romulus strongly supports the concept of Adult Foster Care Homes, as equality cannot be conditional; it is, however, opposed to any means used to promote inequities; and placing handicapped individuals in an unhealthy and/or unsafe environment infringes upon their right to a safe and normal way of life.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED: That the City Council of the City of Romulus does, in the aforementioned spirit, herewith implore the State Department of Mental Health, deny application for license for an Adult Foster Care Home at 6270 Hunt Street, Romulus, Michigan.

What affects photo and film development

By DON GREEN
 There are four factors that affect successful and consistent film development: Time, temperature, agitation and chemical activity being the last important factor.

In order to keep consistent results using recommended developing procedures, you must use systematic agitation of the film during development.

The system of agitation will vary from film to film. That is, the method of agitating cut film will be different than roll film. Agitation, however, is necessary during the development of any film.

By not agitating at all, the rate of development is slowed down or you may wind up with unevenly developed film. Let's see just what happens when we don't agitate properly. Without any movement of either film or developer, the portion of the developer will become exhausted.

This means the exposed silver halide crystals are used up and the rate of development becomes increasingly slower.

Developing reduces the exposed crystals in the emulsion by extracting silver halide which leaves the metallic silver image.

By not using agitation the developer becomes loaded with bromide where it is in contact with the emulsion and so laden, may flow across the surface of the film from the dense areas to the less dense areas. Thus uneven streaks appear.

So if we agitate the film, fresh solution is continually being brought to the emulsion, thus no uneven development and we maintain a proper rate of development.

Chemical activity of the developing will also affect the degree or development. The term chemical activity means the 'inherent energy of the differently compounded developers to perform the functions of development.' This activity primarily depends on the ingredients of the developer and its dilution.

Let's first consider the developer or reducer. These different agents will behave differently in their methods of reduction. Reducers such as metol make the image appear quickly and then gain density very slowly. Others such as hydroquinone will react in just the opposite manner. Therefore, temperature will not have as great an effect on metol as on hydroquinone.

Focus on Photography

These and others differences depend on the chemical nature of the agents. These differences are called 'reduction Potential.'

Developers that continue working at a normal rate even under conditions such as low temperature, are said to have a high reduction potential.

Alkalinity in the developer also plays a part in the activity of a solution. This means, a strong alkali such as potassium hydroxide will cause faster development than a weak one like borax. Borax is used as a soft developer for less contrast.

'The greater proportion of potassium bromide, the more contrast will be produced in the developed negative.' This is called a restrainer which keeps the shadow from being affected by the developer more so than the highlights.

When we speak of the term dilution we are talking about the amount of water that is added to the solution. When we mix our developer to its original formula, it is said to be full strength. Diluting the developer lessens its strength, therefore, makes it less active.

By using a developer over and over its power is decreased. This is called oxidation.

This is caused by the reducing of the exposed silver halide crystals. Next week we will look at what a stop bath does and how a fixer works.

He'll attend conference

Larry Edmondson, Romulus, has qualified to attend a career conference of New York Life Insurance Company agents this week in Oberlin, Ohio, according to Gerald H. Gordon, CLU, general manager of the company's Dearborn General Office.

Edmondson will join other agents and company executives for educational work in life underwriting, health and employee protection insurance.
